ALLIES MOVE TO KEEP ORDER IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Commissioners to Declare Martial Law if Necessary to Maintain Peace; Ask Authority to Act

LONDON UNEASY OVER SITUATION WHICH IS REGARDED AS CRITICAL

Scarcity of News from Constantinople Adds to Feeling of Anxiety

MALTA.—Reliable sources declare it has been learned that further Turkish demands will be made at the Lausanne peace conference, namely, that the Greek islands of Mytilene and Chios, in the Aegean, off the Asia Minor coast, be given to Turkey and that Turkey shall be permitted to administer her own debt.

PARIS.—By the Associated Press.—The allied high commissioners at Constantinople have asked their governments for authorization to take all necessary measures to maintain order in Constantinople. It was announced here this afternoon. The commissioners, it was stated, will declare martial law if necessary.

The French dreadnaught, Jean Bart, will leave Toulon today to join the allied fleet at Constantinople.

British Leave Mosul

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By the Associated Press.—According to Turkish nationalist quarters the British forces are retiring from Mosul on the Tigris in northern Mesopotamia and the Kemalists are entering the area.

The allied commissioners held an extraordinary council Monday night, at which the recent series of threats, claims and demands by the nationalists were discussed at length and the decision of a former attitude was decided upon in resistance to the Kemalists' arbitrary course, the curbing of their activities in Constantinople, eastern Thrace and other areas, and counteracting the increasing influence of the Mudania armistice convention. It is understood the commissioners considered the expulsion of Hattat Pasha from the capital in the event of a continuance of the armistice violation.

Musa Control City

The commissioners held a conference with Hattat Pasha, the nationalist envoy here, and informed him that the allied governments, while not desiring to interfere with Turkish internal affairs, must maintain the system of control which the allies regarded as necessary during the occupation of Constantinople.

Meanwhile, the city, which had been sanguinely anticipating the Lausanne conference to clear up the various disputes, became the prey to worse fears than those that prevailed before the Mudania peace was signed in the belief that the Kemalists intended to insist on their demands.

It was remarked, however, that for the first time in many weeks there had been complete unanimity reached among the British, French and Italians in their action toward the nationalists and the belief was expressed in some quarters that the Kemalists would retreat from their arbitrary stand in the face of allied unity.

May Halt Relief Work

It is feared that all American relief efforts in the near east may have been stopped on page six.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE SIGNAL EVENT IN GATEWAY CITY

Big Program Planned at Theater in Morning Following a Parade

WILLIAM L. DUDLEY WILL BE SPEAKER AT MEETING

All Organizations Invited to Participate in Parade

Plans for the celebration of Armistice day are well under way and the occasion promises to be one of unusual interest. The chairman of the Legion's Armistice day program committee has addressed a special letter to the patriotic societies of the city with reference to the coming celebration. The following excerpts from this letter set forth the general nature of the plans for the day:

"The Roy L. Vigners post of the American Legion is preparing a program for Armistice day which we hope to make a notable one in this community. We wish to form a tradition here in La Crosse that on each November 11 a popular community program shall be carried out under the auspices of the American Legion. We hope that the programs for this day may always have three special features:

"1. A brief, but deeply felt tribute to the soldier dead of the world war who were robbed by death of the privilege of tasting the great joy of November 11, 1918.

"2. A joyous victorious feeling because such a monstrous struggle should have been at last ended with victory for those who were fighting on the side of free representative government with a Christian conscience. This spirit is to be the dominant spirit on this anniversary celebration.

"3. A patriotic address by an eminently able man that shall powerfully move the minds of all the people to a deeper and more serious understanding of the problems that each citizen must face and settle if Americanism is to be preserved and refined as a heritage for future generations.

Meeting at Theater

"The general program now being planned calls for a big parade starting about 9 o'clock in the morning which shall immediately be followed by a program in the La Crosse theater which has very generously been furnished free of charge for this occasion.

In the afternoon, a football game has been scheduled between the La Crosse high school and Lane Tech, a local school of Chicago. This will furnish a happy outlet for the joyous spirit of the day for the younger people. Plans are being made to call forth at the game the national patriotic spirit in conjunction with the feeling of loyalty to our high school.

"For the theater program, the Legion has secured Mr. William L. Dudley of Minneapolis, Minn., as the orator of the day. Many La Crosse people have heard Mr. Dudley speak and can assure you that he will deliver a very fine address. We hope the members of your organization will advertise widely and strongly this feature of the program which from the point of view of the patriotic societies is the most important feature. We want the theater packed to capacity to hear the message our speaker will bring. The Legion is working unselfishly and using a part of its funds to arrange a program that we are sure is vitally needed in our community. May we have your hearty co-operation and assistance?"

All to Participate

All patriotic and civic organizations are not only invited but urged to take part in the parade. The complete program for the exercises in the theater, and the details of the parade will be announced later in the Tribune and Leader-Press. Meanwhile let's all make plans to forget the ordinary work and business of next Saturday and devote our attention to these national patriotic exercises which are certainly not less important for every man, woman and child than are the ordinary affairs of routine Saturday and the handling of checks and the making of weekly allowances; but the onward marching nations of the earth do not burst into parades of delicious joy over the rebirth of democracy once in a hundred years! One such day is, in a thousand years to man, if not, indeed, to his Maker also.

EIGHT FOREIGNERS HELD PRISONER BY CHINESE BANDITS

PEKING.—By The Associated Press.—Eight foreigners, five of them missionaries now are in the hands of bandits in the province of Honan.

The latest communications include Mistress Soderstrom and her daughter, who were captured at Shuangshui-shien, according to a correspondent writing at Kading, under date of November 3. They are members of the China inland mission.

Ruth Sellars, said to have been the wife of Charles Robare of La Crosse, corporal in the U. S. medical corps and stationed at San Francisco, who was held captive in a room by Robare for three days. Police learned of her plight and broke in the door. They found Robare dead from self-poisoning.

STATE CONVENTION OF BUTTERMAKERS TO OPEN TONIGHT

Outlook Promises One of Most Successful Gatherings in Organization's History

TUESDAY EVENING ADDRESS OPEN TO GENERAL PUBLIC

Glover Will Speak on "Advertising Wisconsin Dairy Products"

With the opening meeting of the Wisconsin Buttermakers' convention scheduled to take place Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce hall, prospects for a large attendance were already good Tuesday morning. The 1922 convention of the state buttermakers promises to be one of the largest and most successful gatherings that the organization has ever known, with full delegations reporting from practically all of the 18 districts, and many interested visitors coming to the city to take part in the program.

The address slated for Tuesday evening on "Advertising Wisconsin Dairy Products," by A. J. Glover, editor of Board's Dairyman, a publication having a wide circulation among the dairymen of the country, is open to the public at the invitation of Mr. H. C. Larson, secretary of the Buttermakers' association. This address is in keeping with a movement which is to be launched shortly in the state—a movement the object of which will be to raise the standard of Wisconsin dairy products to such a degree, and to advertise them in such a way that there will be a continual demand for them on all of the principal markets of the country.

All of the meetings of the convention will be held at the Chamber of Commerce hall. The headquarters are at the Stoddard hotel. The final session will be held Thursday morning.

HARDING TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION FOR NOVEMBER 20

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Harding expects to issue a call Thursday or Friday for a special session of congress convening November 20, it was announced Tuesday at the white house.

It was said that although the president was not irrevocably committed to the proposal for the special session which had generally been expected by congressional leaders only an eleventh hour change of mind would prevent him from issuing the call.

Although the program for the special session has not been worked out definitely it briefly provides for consideration by the house of the merchant marine bill and work by the senate on the Dyer anti-lynching measure, which has already passed the house.

ARREST 4 BOYS FOR AUTOMOBILE THEFTS IN CITY

North Side Youths Implicated in Theft of Four Machines During October

HELD IN CENTRAL POLICE STATION FOR INVESTIGATION

Statements to Chief of Police Admit Guilt

WITH THE ARREST of four local high school boys, one on Sunday night and the other three Monday, police Tuesday believed that the frequency of automobile thefts in the city has been somewhat curbed. A statement by each of the boys now being held at Central station tells of their various experiences with four stolen automobiles during the month of October, according to police reports.

North Side Boys

The boys under arrest are Milton Grady, 16, 1709 Liberty street; Wallace Clement, 16, 1303 Caledonia street; Lawrence Thompson, 15, 2129 Kane street, and Carl Theop, 16, 1015 St. Paul street. Grady was arrested Sunday night, while the other three were brought to Central station Monday. Chief of Police John B. Webster stated that three of the boys, Grady, Thompson and Clement are at present serving parole terms for burglary committed a year ago last January.

Through the statement of the boys under arrest here it became known that the three La Crosse youths, George Dayton, Frank Faucher and John Main, under arrest at Mitchell, S. D., were also implicated in several of the thefts for which the boys here are now being held. On the night of Friday, October 18, when the Dayton car was stolen, Faucher, Dayton and Main had attempted to persuade Theop to join them when they left the city but he had refused, he told the police. The Edward's machine was abandoned on the river road between Wabasha and Kellogg.

Grady Admits Thefts

Grady admitted to the police that he and Faucher and Clement were the three who stole the Thwing Oakland from the north side on the night of October 11. He told the chief that he drove the car, going to Holmen and the rate of 45 miles an hour, and of the accident that occurred on the return trip to the city when the gears in the rear end of the car were stripped on the hill just north of Midway. Grady said they turned around at Holmen, stopped to talk with four girls, and started back to the city.

At Midway, when the car broke down, they had attempted to repair the machine with bolts purchased at the Mulder general store there. When this was of no avail, they abandoned the car and caught a ride back to town in a car owned by the Roosevelt company, Grady said. They got off at the Rainbow Gardens and walked the remainder of the way home.

Take Persons' Car

According to their statements, Grady, Thompson, Clement and Faucher were together in the theft of the second Oakland owned by A. L. Persons, 119 South Sixth street, on the night of October 12. Grady told the police that they had intended to accompany them on this tour, but that he (Theop) backed out when he saw a policeman whom he thought was watching them. In this Oakland the four boys drove to French Island and around the north side, finally abandoning the machine in Copeland park. The car was discovered by George Ritter, park superintendent, the next morning.

Faucher, Clement and Grady, according to the latter's statement, were implicated in the theft of another Ford Sedan from a parking place near the St. James church on the north side. Grady said all three of the boys took turns in driving the car, police said. Faucher, Clement, Theop and Main were implicated in the theft of Mr. Edward's car. They did not remember just where they had driven with the exception that they had gone to Onalaska.

The statement of all four of the youths is substantially the same with regard to who was implicated in each of the thefts. The boys were scheduled to be taken into court probably on Wednesday.

FARMER SENTENCED TO TEN YEARS FOR STATUTORY OFFENSE

ELROY, Wis.—Osmond Anderson, a farmer living north of this city, who was arrested upon complaint of State Highway Officer A. E. Frederick for a statutory offense, his 14-year-old daughter Anna being named, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Crosby to ten years in the state prison at Waupun.

BODIES OF 63 OF MINERS ARE ALREADY FOUND

Ninety-five of Workers Accounted for; Believed Seventeen More Perished in the Mine

RED CROSS AND SALVATION ARMY ON HAND TO AID THE RESCUERS

Explosion is Fifth in Reilly Mine; No Fatalities in Other Four

SPANGLER, Pa.—By the Associated Press.—Thirteen additional bodies were taken from the mine of the Reilly Coal company here, bringing the total dead recovered to sixty-three. All are in a temporary morgue. Thirteen mine rescue experts said they had explored all but two of the headings and did not expect to find any more bodies.

SPANGLER, Pa.—By the Associated Press.—The bodies of fifty miners who lost their lives in the Reilly mine explosion here Monday, lay in the city morgue at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. Thirteen more were in sight in the mine, rescue workers said, and thirty-two injured were in the miners' hospital.

Leaders of rescuers summarized the situation at that hour. Men in mine when explosion occurred, not more than 112. Bodies recovered, fifty. Bodies located in mine, thirteen. Injured in hospital, thirty-two. Total accounted for, ninety-five.

Death Toll May Reach 80

There was still some uncertainty as to the number of men who went to work Monday, but it was pointed out that the total was 112 as some authorities believed, the missing seventeen would probably be found in the eighth heading where the water had risen so rapidly that exploration this morning had been impossible. If these men had gone into the mine, it was asserted, they had probably perished.

If that proved true, the leaders said, the number of dead would reach eighty. Efforts were being made to repair the pumps damaged by the explosion while a force of workers was cutting a passageway through the coal between the eighth and ninth headings. With this work complete, they hoped to reach the last of the unexplored galleries by noon.

The grim task of removing the dead started about two o'clock this morning after widows and children of the missing men had been indexed for their return home. They stood in the main hall all through yesterday, rescue chiefs believed that the mine would be cleared of bodies soon after daylight.

Six state troopers patrolled the area about the mine mouth and kept the hundreds of curious persons away.

Miners' hall, a little structure here, was the temporary morgue, undertakers here in Burnside and Johnson town were ordered to prepare for the dead men. Early in the day some undertakers were washing and embalming the mine-soaked bodies in the hall here. Every delivery truck and sawage as a morgue wagon.

Relief Organization on Job

Red Cross and Salvation Army workers from Pittsburgh, Altoona and Johnstown were on hand distributing coffee and sandwiches to the rescue squads as they came to the surface with their burden of death or to replenish their oxygen tanks for a new exploration of the muddy pits.

When rescue workers entered the mine soon after noon Monday they encountered bodies in the main vein only 100 feet from fresh air. They halted only long enough to make sure there was no spark of life and then hurried on into the gassy chambers to search for possible survivors.

Their hopes were high when they came upon a badly constructed brace on which was scrawled: "There are 29 miners behind this." But the rescuers pushed on deeper into the mine for men who had not fortified themselves. The gas was strong at this point and they feared that should they break down the barrier the weakened condition of the men could not stand the rush of the deadly fumes.

Bodies Huddled Together

Other rescuers later found more than a score of bodies huddled together. It is believed that this group was the one behind the brace. Five times an explosion has occurred in this mine, but the other four did not register a fatality.

Damage to the mine itself was not great, officials announced. They (Continued on page six)

Vote Little More Than Ratification or Primary; Local Contests to Decide Control of State Senate; Snow Affects Vote in Dakotas

MADISON, Wis.—By the Associated Press.—Election interest increased only slightly Tuesday as Wisconsin voters went to the polls to ratify, in most instances, their primary election decisions. Referendum on three proposed constitutional amendments injected the one new issue that confronted all electors of the state.

Local elections in the state senate districts are going to decide the political complexion of the upper house of the legislature. These contests affect more directly than any other the affairs of all the people of the state. In addition, three congressional contests are attracting attention. The success of the program of legislation to be submitted by the next state administration will depend upon the outcome of the contests in state senatorial districts. With the assembly overwhelmingly favorable to Governor Blaine, whose re-election is taken for granted by republican headquarters, the close lineup in the senate will determine the success or failure of the important tax program to come before the 1923 session of the legislature.

Senate Contests

The principal fights for senate seats are between John E. Cashman, La Follette republican, and Frank A. Yindra, democrat, in the First district; T. J. Pruss, La Follette republican, and Walter Tolakowski, socialist, in the Third district; Bernhard Gottelmann, La Follette republican, and Paul E. Schmidt, socialist, in the Fifth district; John S. Kancy, La Follette republican, and William F. Quick, socialist, in the Fifth district; Ben H. Mahon, La Follette republican, and C. V. Baxter, socialist, in the Seventh district; Herman Bilgren, La Follette republican, and L. S. Keeley, democrat, in the Thirteenth district; Merritt P. White, anti-La Follette republican, and Julius H. Denhardt, La Follette independent, in the Nineteenth district; Joseph Barber, La Follette republican, Ralph E. Smith, anti-La Follette independent, and A. J. Plowman, independent democrat, in the Twentieth district, and John C. Schumann, La Follette republican, and Charles Mulberger, independent democrat, in the Thirty-third district.

The socialist candidates, if elected, are expected to stand with the administration on most measures during the 1923 session, but would not be expected to co-operate when organization of the senate is undertaken. A senate organized by opponents of the administration would hamper its proposed legislation.

Three Congress Fights

The three important congressional fights would change but little the general complexion of Wisconsin's delegation to the national capital, either way they are decided. Both Henry Graas, independent republican candidate for congress in the Ninth district, and George F. Schneider, La Follette republican nominee and his opponent, expect victory in their fight. This district has been the real battle ground of the general election.

Congressman William J. Stafford in the fourth district has had a hard fight with Victor L. Berger, Socialist nominee who is again seeking election. Berger has twice been refused a seat in Congress. In the other Milwaukee district, the fifth, John C. Schaefer, La Follette republican, since has been vigorously opposed by Edmund T. Melna, socialist and Joseph P. Lucason, Democrat.

Delegation "Wet"

The Wisconsin Congressional delegation, no matter what the outcome of the election, will have a majority of wets, according to both the Anti-Saloon league and the Association against the Prohibition Amendment. It will also be favorable to Senator La Follette.

The three constitutional amendments to be voted on if ratified by the people would permit cities to increase their bonded indebtedness by another five per cent, would permit sheriffs to succeed themselves to office, and would give the legislature authority to make a jury verdict valid if in civil cases five-sixths of the jurors agreed.

There has been little discussion of these proposed constitutional amendment and scarcely any comment on them by newspapers of the state or by candidates for office.

Snow Will Affect Voting

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Fair weather for Tuesday's election was forecast generally for the North Central states, except in extreme upper lake regions and the Dakotas, where rain and snow is expected to affect the size of the vote in the rural districts.

In North Dakota, especially, inclement weather was regarded as a most important factor in the election. Yesterday's snowstorm and the weather outlook today increased the hopes of supporters of J. E. T. O'Connor, democratic nominee for United States senator. O'Connor backers expressed the belief that the bad weather (Continued on page six)

SMALL VOTE CAST IN ELECTION HERE; INTEREST SLACK

Political Forecasters Say all Republicans Will Be Elected Today

OTHERS SAY THAT LAPITZ HAS GOOD CHANCE FOR SHERIFF

Larger Vote Expected to Turn Out During Evening Hours

"The quietest election in years" was the way one well known politician summed up election day at 2 o'clock this afternoon, after making the rounds of several precincts.

"Only a small percentage of the registered vote has been cast," he said. A majority of the people in the city of La Crosse seem to have no interest in election or have forgotten that this is election day.

However, election officials in several precincts predicted that a much larger vote would be cast during the evening hours, between 6 and 8 o'clock, although admitting that the total vote would be light in the city.

Asst. politicians today predicted a close race between J. L. Lund, republican and J. E. Lapitz, democratic candidate for sheriff. Supporters of Lapitz were depending upon getting out a good vote in the city districts to carry their candidate to victory. Backers of Lund say that the county will go republican and their man will be elected, along with all other republican candidates.

Much speculation was heard today as to the size of the vote which Margaret Imhoff Brown democratic, candidate for county treasurer and first woman to run for a county office, would get. Admitting that Mrs. Brown might get a larger percentage of the women's votes cast in the county today, the political forecasters predicted that the normal result of a lean majority in fall elections would re-elect County Treasurer Lund.

SALVATION ARMY MEETING TONIGHT JOHNSON TO TALK

Captain Elmer Johnson, divisional young peoples' secretary will be the principal speaker at a get-together meeting at the Salvation Army barracks at 8 o'clock tonight. The public is invited to attend this inspiring meeting, and enjoy an interesting program.

HEAVY VOTE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill.—Fair weather and heavy voting was the combination looked for by both democrats and republicans for victory in the state-wide election Tuesday. The weather was fair throughout the state according to the weather bureau and in Chicago a vote of $725,000 of a registered vote of $805,000, was estimated would be cast.

VOTING BOOTHS BURN

KENOSHA, Wis.—The polling place in the second ward here caught fire this morning, forcing a hurried exit of voters and election officials. The ballot-box and all the election supplies were saved and transferred to another building. The fire delayed the voting less than half an hour.

NO LUNCH WEDNESDAY

On account of the buttermakers' convention, there will be no Wednesday noon luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce this week. Next week, however, the noon-day luncheons will be resumed.

Sportsmanship

HATS off to Minnesota for its sportsmanship. There was at the game the traditional rivalry—deep-seated, intense. Until well into the second half the Gopher fans were intent upon the chance of victory, straining to encourage their team. Then came the first Badger score, brilliantly won against a defense both clever and dogged. Perhaps it was the scintillating Rollie Williams that first caught their imagination. From that moment an exceptional play of the Richardsmen was applauded almost as vigorously as those of their own team. More than once Williams "got a hand" from the Minnesota bleachers. Finally, after advancing the ball an aggregate of something like 180 yards, Williams was injured, and was assisted from the field. Almost to a man the Gopher stands rose to their feet and cheered the man who had contributed most to their defeat. It was their homecoming game, to lose which in any case would have been a disappointment, and to lose which against the arch foe of many desperate struggles was a blow that would have tested the good feeling of a less gamey throng. But theirs was a spirit of generosity kin to that which caused a Minnesota physician to hasten to Williams' aid. Here was American sportsmanship at its best. Ours crosses no better steel. Our admiration goes out to the University of Minnesota.

Provide a Way

WE got a lot of kick out of this editorial in the Kenosha News. Read it, friends, and weep, for the News is telling the truth. Dane county isn't, however, the only county of which it is true that its roads are a disgrace to the name highway, albeit it may be more to blame, having more wealth than others in a road condition no worse. But here, read what the News said:

AN INACCESSIBLE STATE CAPITAL

We recall reading a little while ago in a nationally circulated paper that Dane county, Wisconsin, was one of the richest counties in the nation. Well, it ought to be. It is the location of the capital of one of the great states of the Union, the people of that state have built there one of the world's greatest, if not the world's greatest, institution of learning, and a patient people all over Wisconsin keep working night and day contributing to make Madison and Dane county great. These things should contribute to riches. Of course, not all the money raised in Wisconsin for state purposes is spent in Madison or Dane county, but a terrible amount of it sticks to the ways while going through the clearing house there. Dane county is rich because Wisconsin has made it rich. Its people are prosperous because the people of the rest of the state have contributed to their prosperity. Madison and Dane county bank in the political smiles of a governor and shrink from the frown of a peevish United States senator. Dane county has all these things, even without the asking, and yet Madison and Dane county give little in return to the people of the state. Madison is a thoroughly inaccessible state capital. If you think that this is stretching matters, just try to get there and get there with any degree of comfort. "Shimmy" into the capital over that worse than Indian trail known as "Highway 10" or bump the bumps and shoot the shoots in an effort to get from Cambridge to Madison over "Highway 12" or lift with death in the holes of the old worn-out macadam roads which flank the city on all the other sides. The fellow who wrote that Dane county was rich never referred to its highways. We were informed that there was an excellent straight-away concrete road running all the way from Madison to Middleton—a distance of six miles—but who in the dickens wants to go to Middleton? Madison and Dane county may think that there is something poetic or romantic in having a city flanked by trails which an Indian would scorn to use, but the condition of the roads leading into Madison has come to be a scandal on the fair name of Wisconsin. Once a rather disgusted and askamed electorate in the state capital sought to get a bond issue to build roads. It was beaten by a majority as large as would follow the suggestion of the adoption of prohibition in Milwaukee or Sheboygan. The roads of Dane county may be good enough for the home-coming of triumphant politicians, who go there to sit at the pie counter and spend the money of other people, but they are a disgrace to the people of the rest of the state, who pay the money for operating the state, and who would like to have a chance to ride with comfort into their own capital city. The state highway commission holds its sessions in Madison and from under the dome of a capital—not built by Dane county—sends out urgent calls to other counties in the state to build roads, and yet the members of the commission cannot motor into the regular meetings without having their entire internal organs churned into a jelly on the worse than "rotten" roads leading into the town. Nature was kind to Madison. It has given it beautiful lakes and a setting such as is to be found in no other city in the world. But Madison and Dane county have contributed nothing in the way of an addition to these beauties. If it cost a nickel to keep the water in Lake Monona blue by throwing in vitriol, Dane county probably would want the state to do it as an "experiment."

Conditions of the roads about Madison indicate that most of them were built for experimental purposes. Certainly none of them were built for traffic. Of course, Madison says: "Well, what are you going to do about it?" Madison has had the state capital for a lot of years, and undoubtedly the expenditure which has been made by the state might make it hard to move. However, cities and states have undertaken greater projects than the removal of a state capital, and Wisconsin people are not always going to sit idly by and stand for the do-nothing policies of Dane county. Madison is poorly located to be the seat of the state government. It is hard to reach it by rail and impossible to get into it by highway with any degree of comfort. Some time the seat of the state is going to rise up in its might and say to Madison, "Keep your old four lakes and your impassable Indian trails; we are going to have a state capital and a state university located somewhere where the people of the county believe it is worth while to co-operate with us."

We endorse that editorial, including the spanking given the rich and prosperous citizens of Dane county who won't loosen up for roads. But we'd suggest that moving the state capital from Madison is a trifle expensive as a remedy. A better way, perhaps, would be to make a change in our road-building machinery so that the state at large can force wealthy counties derelict in their duty to build roads, and help the poorer counties that want to and can't afford it. As it is now, either poverty or niggardliness in any county can spoil the value of even the most highly developed trunk lines. If the editor of the Kenosha News doubts this, let him shimmy through Madison and then try buck-jumping and clay-digging from Dane county to the western part of the state, on any of the three roads between Madison and La Crosse. The worst is this side of Madison. We hope that the discontent of the Kenosha editor will extend to support of modern road methods in the next legislature.

Well, Anthracite, Then

THE Retail Coalman, trade journal of Chicago, is taking the lay press to task for calling hard coal "anthracite coal" instead of plain anthracite. It demands an explanation. We should say the reason is that the public is not composed of geologists, and in the days when coal—hard coal—first became known as a fuel (the Retail Coalman may recall that the geologists' terms anthracite probably meant about as much to about as many people as "pyrites" or "magnesian" means today. That is to say, people all knew it as "something they get out of the ground," but had only the vaguest idea of its use. Naturally the coal operators and dealers of that period called their anthracite "hard coal," or to make the connection perfectly clear, "anthracite coal." And after all, why not? It is coal, isn't it? And while "anthracite coal" may be tautological, it has the pre-eminent and chief of all virtues in language—it is accurately descriptive. It gets across. So, while this newspaper will agree to mend its ways and call hard coal just anthracite hereafter, being meticulous in its desire for accuracy, it nevertheless suspects the Retail Coalman of a too jealous captiousness. We, the people, can call anything under the sun anything that we please, and if we all agree to call it that, it is right. Usage is the great arbiter of words, and if the technical press runs afoul of usage usage won't lose the match.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Like most of the rest of the state and nation La Crosse county gave its presidential vote to Governor Wilson of New Jersey almost two to one. After all votes in the county were counted it was shown that Wilson had received a total of 1,941 votes more than Taft, his nearest competitor. Women's suffrage was defeated in this county more than two to one. It is indicated that it has been defeated in the rest of the state also.

George B. Marvin, Jr., north side alderman, has entered into negotiations for the sale of his insurance and real estate business to Otto Lee. Mr. Marvin will probably locate in the west.

Will Schell of Onalaska, has left for Seattle, Wash., where he has accepted a position with the Milwaukee road.

Miss Anna Bess and Mr. Edward Lichtle, both of this city, were married at the office of Judge Leonard Kleeber this afternoon, the judge performing the ceremony.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

At last the survey of the La Crosse and Black River Falls Electric road has been started and the surveyors have taken up offices in the Balaban bank building.

Captain M. M. Looney and son have returned from the Klondike.

Captains Vol. A. Bigelow and Dan McDonald, Joseph W. Skinner and John C. Burns have gone to Quincy, Ill., to attend the big river convention to be held there next week. The purpose of the convention is to make a united effort to encourage the national government to protect and preserve the upper Mississippi river for the benefit of commerce. Delegates will be present from all cities in the Mississippi valley.

A movement is on foot to close the north side stores at 7 P. M. every day except Saturdays. The retail clerks' union is behind the plan.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

E. W. Krebs last night disposed of his insurance business to Alderman Henry Niebuhr. He leaves next week for Milwaukee to take a position as chief book-keeper of the Concordia Fire Insurance company. Mr. Krebs has resided here the past sixteen years.

Matt Spah, who of course will not be recognized by that name because he was commonly known as "Shiner" when he used to work around Burns' Fruit House and sell bananas on the sidewalk Saturday nights, is going to be a soldier. He writes Mr. Burns from Minneapolis that he has enlisted in the regular army and will leave for the west soon. His parents and one brother live in this city.

The Wheel and Seeder Works has completed the manufacture of a self-draining hose reel invented by H. S. Thill of this city. The model is on exhibition at Trane's plumbing establishment.

A Flapper There Was

By JESSIE DOUGLAS

"Oh flappers, they bore me to death!" Dick Haldane said with disgust, "all of 'em alike. Bobbed hair, bare knees, earrings and powder. Laugh!"

The last was an exclamation that was supposed to show scorn, but his companion only laughed.

"You'll get over it, Dick," he laughed, "everybody else's falling for them, it'll be your turn next."

Dick Haldane swung his pack to his shoulder and set off down the road, turning to halloo a last farewell at the head of the road to the man that was leaning against the cabin rail.

It was warm with the sun on his back, but Dick drew in great breaths of the wintry air of the mountains and strode out to the trail, where balsam cut out his view of the climb ahead. He was humming to himself rejoicing in his freedom from the grind of the office and the multitudinous voices of the city.

He topped a hill and stopped to rest for a moment on a slate ledge. How it happened, he was never sure. But he felt himself shoot forward with a sickening lurch and then he crumpled over with his left foot under him. He tried to rise and then he realized that his foot was wrenched. He could scarcely move.

"By George," he cried out, "and Jim's gone for the day down to Gloversville! How'm I—"

He looked up to see that some one was staring down at him with interest. Dick flushed. The person staring at him was no other than an abhorred flapper. Her pert head was tilted on one side and her short curling hair stood out like an aureole. She wore knickers. If there was one thing Dick despised on a woman it was knickerbockers. The powder was not apparent nor were the earrings, but Dick knew her breed and prepared to spurn with her.

"Hurt?" she asked calmly.

"Perhaps," she said airily, "I could lug you along to that cabin—"

"I'm not asking the impossible," Dick said rudely.

She paid no apparent attention to his last remark. But going over to the side of the trail she picked up a mountain stick and handed it to him.

"Lean on that, grandpa," she said gravely, "and I'll support you on the left wing."

Dick rose. He decided he would show her. He leaned on her shoulder none too lightly, but after the first few steps he forgot that he was showing her, but he knew he was going to get to a cabin somehow. The girl at his side was just a support like the mountain stick in his other hand.

Twenty minutes later they reached the cabin and Dick, sinking to the couch, saw her face white and spent with hard-bitten lips.

"You poor little kid, you're all tired out!" he exclaimed.

"Tired nothing!" she gasped and managed to smile. "A mere step," she ended flippantly.

Dick granted something. There she stood, a flapper to the top of her curly mop, with feet wide apart, thumbs clinging to the lining of her pockets.

"Thanks," he managed, "All right now, you—"

But she paid no attention to him, turning once to command, "Don't move!" as she saw him reaching for his pipe on the table.

Dick lay back and closed his eyes. Next he knew she was bending over him. "Sit up and put your foot in this!" He dipped his foot in the steaming tub of water, wondering mistily how she had done it so quickly. He felt her fingers cool and agile binding his ankle lightly with something she drew from her tiny knapsack, and then he dozed pleasantly away.

It was a delicious odor that welcomed him, the rich smell of boiling coffee, and as he sat up and sniffed the air he saw her come into the room airily, carrying a tray balanced on one hand while she poised a coffee pot in the other.

"Think you can take a little nourishment?" she asked with a gleam in her brown eyes.

Dick opened his eyes, toasted bread and bacon, coffee and scrambled eggs! He wondered if he were seeing things. In the most matter-of-fact way his companion spread a place for him on the table and dragged it over to him. He watched her with wondering eyes. What was this remarkable child, a cook or a witch?

He fell to without a word, and not until the last broiled bacon sandwich was consumed did he lean back with a sigh of content.

"I've eaten meals," he began gratefully, "but I never—"

Then he saw the gleam in her brown eyes something between mockery and devilry and he stopped short.

"I say, I'm awfully sorry," "What for?" she asked airily.

"For thinking you a flapper," he answered.

Her cheeks flamed poppy red she tossed back her short curls. "But I am, and proud of it!" she threw back at him. "But just because I am a flapper and wear knickers and bob my hair and dance until dawn, do you think that's all I can do? Oh, I know you're that horrid friend of Jim's, who's bored to death at flappers! As if they were some kind of insect or other. Don't you know that flappers are girls? Don't you know they're just the same as old-fashioned girls, except that they dare more and do more and think more?" she blazed.

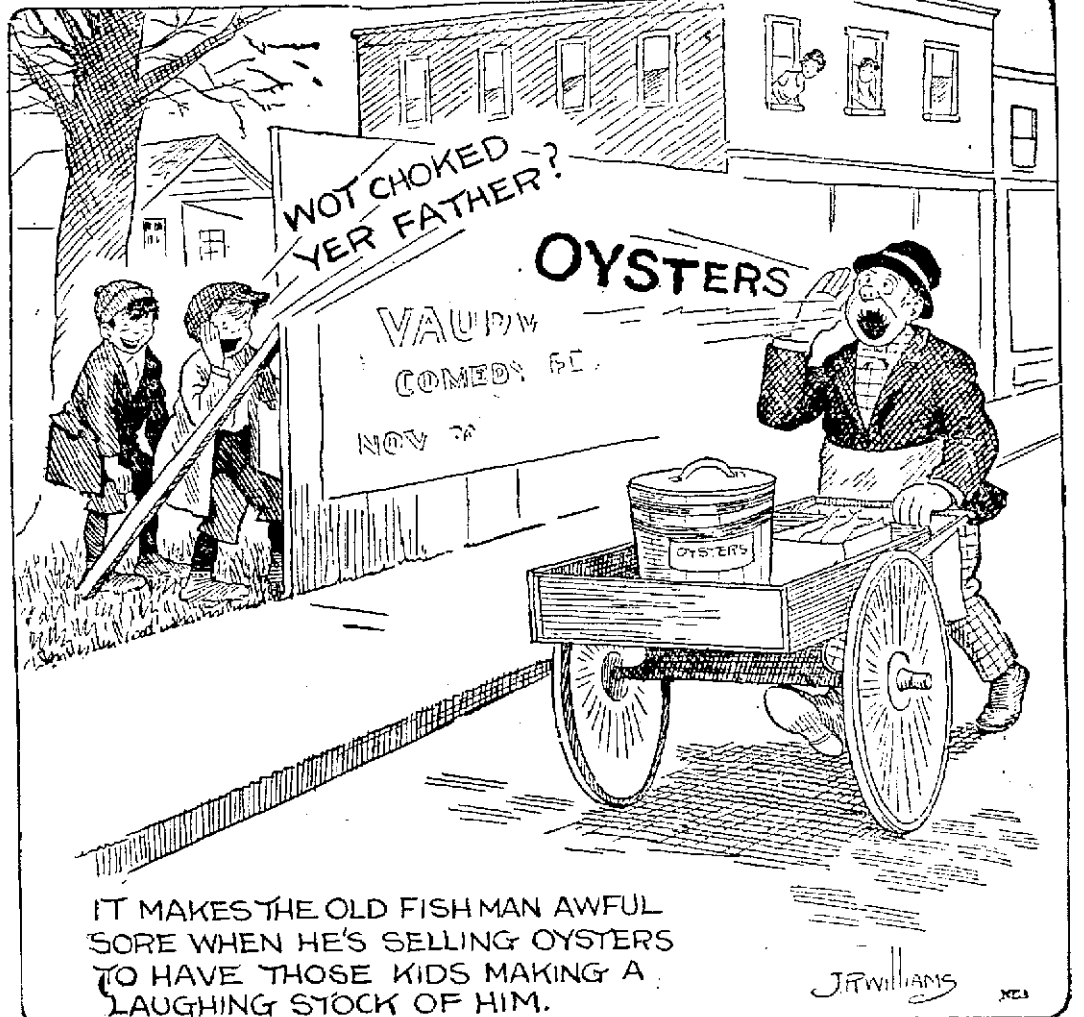

Then she caught up the tray and dashed out of the room.

Dick was smoking very hard when she came back again.

He looked at her, seen her before. Now he saw her eyes were almost bright with tears and she was biting her lips to keep them from trembling. Her cheeks had a curve that was babyish, and her lashes were long enough to curl.

"Getting dusk," he said briefly.

OUT OUR WAY

IT MAKES THE OLD FISH MAN AWFUL SORE WHEN HE'S SELLING OYSTERS TO HAVE THOSE KIDS MAKING A LAUGHING STOCK OF HIM.

"Don't think you'd better stay. No chaperon—"

He heard a little laugh like a brook bubbling over a stone.

"I'm not afraid of dusk!" she gurgled.

It was cool in the mountains at night. She knelt and laid legs on the hearth, and Dick watched the slender kneeling figure, watched the flames come up magically and curl about the wood. How clever she was! How self-reliant! How fearless!

She must have read some of his feeling in his eyes when she stood up, for she said suddenly, "I've got to go. I'll come up in the morning and get your breakfast. I'm staying at the foot of the hill. Good-night!"

A blush had crept clear up to her mop of curls.

Dick was still smoking when Jim pushed open the door late that night.

"Heard you had a fall old chap. Some flapper rescued you," Jim began.

Dick sat up and growled out, "Be careful what you say there, old man! Not a flapper, but the girl I'm going to marry!" but to himself only he added, "Please God!"

NOTE IMPROVEMENT IN NATION'S STEEL AND IRON INDUSTRY

SUPERIOR, Wis.—The Oliver Iron Mining company expects to complete ore shipments for the season by November 10. It was announced Monday by W. J. Olcott, president.

Mr. Olcott returned Sunday morning from New York, where he attended the annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute.

Business in the iron and steel industry is reported as steadily improving, with unfilled orders showing appreciable gains. Although a general labor shortage exists, the possibility of another wage increase is regarded as slight.

To Keep Hair Wavy, Lustrous, Beautiful

The use of the hot curling-iron cannot be too strongly condemned. It means death to the hair eventually. However, it is entirely unnecessary. Long of locked hair can be kept beautifully wavy and ready to any extent and in any form desired, by using the simple and harmless slineurine method. Liquid slineurine should be applied to the hair before doing it up, using a clean tooth brush. In about three hours you will find that a very pretty "natural" wave and earliness has resulted, and the effect will last quite a considerable time. Liquid slineurine is really beneficial and is not sticky nor greasy. Neither does it streak the hair nor stain the scalp. You need not only a few ounces of your drugist. The best way is to divide the front and back hair into from four to six strands and to moisten each strand separately from root to tip.

CREATION OF MAN TOPIC OF SERMON BY REV. ROWLISON

Interesting Theories Reviewed
With Conclusions on the Capacity of Man

"The creation of man; was it by Divine fiat, or by an evolutionary process?" was the subject of Rev. C. C. Rowlison's sermon at the Congregational church Sunday night. He said in part:

"So far as we can trace the thoughts of the human race, the wisest have been seeking to solve the riddle of existence, to determine the origin and the destiny of man. The older the race grows the fresher becomes its interest in these great mysteries of life.

"Though these are still mysteries, they are not realities; for we are here and we believe that we are going somewhere.

"For countless generations it has been believed that man was created in some direct, supernatural way by the Almighty. For 2,000 or 10,000 years at least, considerable sections of the race have thought of man's origin in somewhat such terms as is described in the first two chapters of Genesis.

"These chapters do not agree in any sort of detail. They are of such a nature that man is supposed to have come directly from the hands of God.

"On the other hand, it is but yesterday that men began to think of our origin in other terms. A great American, Dr. Lyman Abbott, died a few days ago. He was a young man when in 1859 Darwin published his 'Origin of Species.' To all thoughtful men, to all of scientific temper, to all scientific method, the evolutionary hypothesis has become the working basis.

"And all this revolution in the conception of the origin of the world and of the race of men has come about while one man was asleep.

"It takes a long time to work a scientific theory down into the common thinking of unscientific men. The remarkable thing is, not that evolution is accepted only by the more thoughtful, but that it is accepted at all by others than those inducted into some sort of secret society where such mysteries are revealed. Had it not been for the political and religious freedom attained by the race so far, no doubt this doctrine would have been held in the strictest secrecy.

Power of God

"One of our very intelligent fellow-citizens said to me only a few days ago, 'I am determined to believe that God could create man by a word, if he wanted to.' This is like two college boys debating whether God could lie, or steal or run horse-races on Sunday.' It is like the little boy who told his mother that he wasn't going to say his prayers any more; for he didn't say them last night and nothing didn't happen, and he didn't say them the night before and nothing didn't happen, and he wasn't going to say 'em any more!

"The more thoughtful and poetic of the ancients did conceive of God as working according to order. Though the two accounts in Genesis do not agree in detail, they do agree in an order of creation.

"Greek philosophers announced a sort of theory of evolution. But they lacked the scientific material which has been accumulated in the slow processes of history which have made possible the modern demonstrations of the working of this hypothesis.

"Inevitably the ancients interpreted the facts according to their theories. The ancients did not try to evolve a theory out of facts—did not make a scientific study of phenomena and then endeavor to account for the phenomena. They had the intellectual theories of the universe and interpreted the phenomena according to them.

Final Observations

"The evolution of the human race is a process that is still going on. The survival of the fittest was the characteristic of a world at war with itself in this creative process. Infinite waste has been characteristic of a prodigal nature.

"Gradually intelligence has been developed which is striving to subdue the earth to a law of reason, and not to the arbitrariness of war. Today intelligence should be superior to brute force. But intelligence itself has created such brutal weapons that there is a possibility that the race may commit suicide with these weapons.

"The spiritually minded assert that the morally best is the universally best. Germany denied that in 1914. The future historian will look upon that date and the years immediately following as among the greatest in human history as an interpreter of the place of a moral director in the affairs of men. The whole trend of evolution seems to indicate an urge making the morally best the end toward which the whole creation moves.

"Man ought to be brought into intelligent co-operation with the evolutionary process. If his intelligence can be subordinated to the highest morality, and to the conviction of a beneficent God dwelling in the whole process—if man in his spiritual capacity can but come to be at home in this vast universe—then the race may develop almost infinitely from its present plane of living.

"Finally, in the ages that are gone, man has developed a religious faculty or capacity, which is his highest attainment; because it brings him into moral and spiritual comradeship with the creative life of the universe. He knows, by his spiritual intuitions as well as by scientific demonstration, that he is essentially of the nature of the life that flows through all things and brings all things into being. The truly religious man, however highly trained scientifically, can exclaim with the Psalmist, 'What is man that thou art mindful of him.'

Or the son of man that thou visitest him. Thou hast created him but little lower than God. And crownest him with glory and honor."

PRISON REFORM AND REBUILDING OF MEN BIG AIM

Work of Central Howard Association is Explained by the Field Secretary

G. M. Bardsley, field secretary of the Central Howard Association has been in town several days. Sunday he made a very excellent presentation of the splendid work of this association at three of the leading churches of La Crosse, First Baptist, First Congregationalist and First Methodist.

Monday noon Mr. Bardsley addressed the Lions Club; Tuesday noon he spoke at the Kiwanis Club and Tuesday evening he presented the work of this association at the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Bardsley declares that "without exaggeration or self praise the Central Howard Association is the only organized association that has for twenty-two years operated in the eight central, midwest states and actively and consistently labored for three distinct and significant propositions, namely: Crime prevention by legislative enactment; second, a constructive prison reform program, and third, to which more time and thought has been given, because it deals with concrete cases and that is special after-care work for the paroled and discharged boy and man from all county and state correctional and penal institutions.

Over its twenty-two years of operations, the slogan of the association has been "A friend in need is a friend indeed," and directly 25,000 men and boys rehabilitated and indirectly 21,000 assisted.

A commendable record last year was achieved for 1,679 men and boys were rebuilt and remade and up to date eighty percent have made good at the very low operating expense of $9.25 per capita. Throughout these eight central, midwest states, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, over 1,500 men and boys were placed in jobs, and over eighty-five percent are holding their positions today, which is as high a percentage as can be found in the best trades and crafts throughout the United States.

Why Eline's Chocolate Is Best

It contains all that is best in chocolate, the purest sugar, the finest whole-cream milk in the world—from cows that graze in the emerald green fields of Wisconsin and drink from spring-fed lakes. Only this combination can produce the whole cream milk you want your child to eat.

Eline's represents strict adherence to an ideal of manufacturing integrity which has inspired their efforts for more than 50 successful years. The keynote of this institution is best expressed in the inscription on the entrance gate:

This model institution was builded by Eline's to produce chocolate and other foods so that we shall help develop for this great nation strong, healthy and contented men and women.

The idealism in the above inscription is born of the firm conviction that permanent happiness can come only from usefulness; that usefulness is measured in terms of service to mankind.

To render the greatest service to mankind is to create a food product of superior worth within the range of the most modest purse. Eline's Bars render a very positive service to mankind.

They supply in concentrated form for 5c or 10c a perfectly balanced ration of food. They contain protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins in correct proportion—that stimulate, store and build up muscular tissue—that nourish the red blood corpuscles—that provide the body with power to operate the human engine.

Eline's is a perfect food—for the vigorous, the weak, the old, and the young. Buy Eline's with the complete assurance that it is honestly made, contains no substitutes, no artificial oils. It is rich in flavor, persuasive in aroma, delicious to taste, yet costs no more than common chocolate.

PLAN RECLAMATION OF SWAMP LAND IN UPPER WISCONSIN

Fourteen Thousand Acres to be Drained and Converted Into Farm Land

ASHLAND, Wis.—Fourteen thousand acres of land comprising the Gibson swamp, 35 miles southwest of Ashland, between Marion and Grand View, is to be drained and converted into the finest kind of farming land if the drainage project now under way is carried through. The ultimate cost will be about $100,000, which will be an expense of about $10 per acre to the land owner.

The project involves the purchase of the land at $10 an acre and the digging of several long ditches. Preliminary engineering was done several years ago, but final estimates were not made until this year. The project is being carried out by the Wisconsin Reclamation Commission, which is a joint effort of the state and federal governments.

The swamp is supposed to be the largest tract of land in northern Wisconsin. It is a low-lying area, and during the winter it is a solid sheet of ice. In the summer it is a swampy, boggy place, and it is not fit for farming.

The drainage project will involve the digging of several long ditches, which will allow the water to flow out of the swamp and into the nearest waterway. This will make the land dry and fit for farming.

The project is being carried out by the Wisconsin Reclamation Commission, which is a joint effort of the state and federal governments. The state is providing the land, and the federal government is providing the money for the drainage project.

FARMER MOURNED AS DEAD FOR YEAR RETURNS TO HOME

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis.—A farmer who had been pronounced dead for a year has returned home. The farmer, who was named John A. Newcomb, was found dead in his field last year. His body was buried, and his family believed he was dead.

However, the farmer had not really died. He had been in a coma for a long time, and his body had been buried in the ground. His family had given up on him, and they had moved on with their lives.

One day, the farmer woke up. He was still in the ground, but he was alive. He had been in the ground for a year, and he had survived. He had been buried in the ground, but he had not really died.

The farmer was found by a neighbor who was looking for a place to bury a dead animal. The neighbor found the farmer's body, and he was surprised to find that the farmer was still alive. The neighbor took the farmer to the hospital, and the doctor confirmed that the farmer was still alive.

The farmer was then taken home, and he is now living with his family. He is still in poor health, but he is alive. He has been in the ground for a year, and he has survived.

CUTE LITTLE PLAY SEEN AT THEATER BY SMALL HOUSE

"Just Married" is Clever Comedy With Many Laughable Situations

"Just Married," as presented at the La Crosse theater last night by Sylvia DeFrankie, Owen Martin and able support is a cute little domestic comedy with clever lines, embarrassing but funny love situations and the usual happy ending.

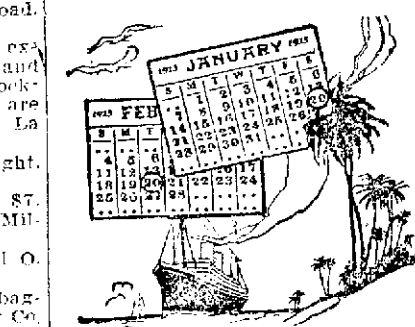

Miss DeFrankie in the role of Roberta Adams, who finds herself assigned to the same stateroom on shipboard as that occupied by Robert Adams, who had entered her life in a rather chivalrous way the day before, was charming.

Owen Martin as Robert Adams is a comedian of the first class, and the ludicrous manner in which he extricated himself from several rather difficult situations kept the house in an uproar. The play was beautifully acted, and, altogether, made a pleasing impression on an audience which was far too small.

SHOOTING AFFRAY MARKS ELECTION IN CHICAGO TODAY

CHICAGO, Ill.—Violence in connection with the election broke out early Tuesday in Chicago when J. H. Clancy, a republican precinct worker in the eighteenth ward, a west side river ward, was fired on as he was leaving his home. None of the shots took effect and the attackers escaped in a motor car from which three men fired several shots. The political skirmishing has been severe in connection with the legislative contests in which the republican faction controlled by Mayor Thompson and Governor Small are battling for control of the legislature and the beer and wine referendum has aroused some feeling, although generally the prohibition organizations have openly declared for ignoring the referendum, asserting it is illegal and of no value and cannot nullify prohibition.

SKELETON FOUND IN SWAMP MAY BE THAT OF MISSING WOMAN

Inquest to be Held Wednesday; Aged Woman Disappeared Two Years Ago

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.—Benzie county authorities are reviewing the disappearance more than two years ago of Mrs. John Mattice, 84 years old and preparing for an inquest to be held Wednesday over the skeleton found Monday in a swamp two miles from her former home at Homer. Plans to hold the inquest Tuesday were altered to allow further investigation of the case.

Identification of the skeleton as that of Mrs. Mattice was made by relatives after examining the heel of a shoe and a few hairpins of unusual design found with the remains.

The aged woman disappeared from her home June 1, 1920, and although searches searched the woods within a radius of five miles no trace of her was found. Her husband was questioned but ultimately was released. He died about a year later.

Although early reports said marks on the skull indicated a blow on the head might have caused death, Mrs. John Gates, sheriff, declined to express an opinion in advance of the inquest. Witnesses at the inquest will include Mrs. John Newstead, stepdaughter of Mrs. Mattice, with whom she resided.

CHIPPEWA FARMER SELLS MOONSHINE TO PAY OFF DEBT

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis.—"There is the $4,000 I owe on my farm; give me my note and mortgage," said a Chippewa county farmer as he handed the money over to a banker near here. "How did you do it when other farmers cannot even raise the interest?" inquired the surprised banker.

"I made it all manufacturing and selling moonshine," said the farmer, "and I am done with the game. I have everything paid for now and wouldn't make another drop of moonshine on a bet. I know when I am well off. I haven't the best farm in the world, but it is paid for."

Cabinet Not to Vote

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Elections over the country Tuesday had their reflex in Washington. In every government department there were many vacant places, several members of the cabinet and many under-officials and employees having gone home to vote. The exodus this year, however, was not as great as usual, as an increasing number voted by mail.

Having registered his choices in this manner, President Harding was at his office at the usual hour with a full day ahead. He had all the latest reports of his party lieutenants, and as the day wore along, received scattering reports from the actual balloting.

Tuesday night he was to get the results in his study as rapidly as they could be received at the executive office and relayed to him over the telephone by Secretary Christian.

Four members of the president's cabinet remained in Washington. Of these Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Wallace, voted by mail. Attorney General Clegg also voted by mail, but spent the day in Baltimore with Mrs. Clegg, who is recuperating there after an operation.

Three members of the cabinet will not vote. Secretary Mellon, it was stated, was prevented from registering by pressure of public business. Secretary Hoover, now on his way west to a meeting of the Colorado River commission at Santa Fe, N. M., is unable to reach his home state of California in time for the election, while Secretary Davis is still in the far west where he has been campaigning.

While there was no accurate information as to just how many votes were cast by residents of "outlets," Washington leaders of the principal parties estimate that there are upwards of fifty thousand potential voters in the District of Columbia, the number having been swelled since the enactment last January of laws permitting legal residents absent to vote by mail.

GEORGE B. LILLY'S FUNERAL HELD AT LA CRESCENT HOME

The funeral of George B. Lilly, former University of Wisconsin student, who was killed by a freight train near Stockholm, Minn., last Saturday morning while on his way to a Minnesota-Wisconsin football game, was held Tuesday afternoon from his home in La Crescent. Members of his fraternity, the Zeta Psi, who accompanied Lilly on the trip from Madison attended the funeral.

In speaking of the accident, Ezra Crane, a member of the Madison automobile party that got as far as Utica, Minn., when the car broke down said:

"A slow freight was standing at the station and Lilly and I, Johnstone made plans to take it. Johnstone came back to the party leaving Lilly at the station. While we were on the way to the station the slow freight for Winona pulled out and shortly after a fast freight came through from Winona to Rochester. Thinking that Lilly had started to walk or ride to Winona the rest of the party walked several miles up the track towards Winona and not finding Lilly we returned to Utica and waited until 3 a. m. for a train to Rochester. From there we went to the game and did not know of Lilly's death until late Saturday night."

KU KLUX KLAN AN ISSUE IN TEXAS ELECTION TODAY

DALLAS, Texas.—Parker B. Mayfield, democratic candidate for the U. S. senate to succeed Senator Charles A. Culberson and George B. Peck, independent, democratic and endorsed by the republican state committee are the two figures of election shadowing interest in Tuesday's election in Texas.

Mayfield, with his name off the ballots in a number of counties, is legally entitled to a place on all of the ballots in the state by virtue of an eleventh hour supreme court ruling in his favor, is said to have the Ku Klux Klan casting a solid vote for him although he has not said anything about the Klan in his campaigning. Peck is known for being the anti-Klan and republican vote.

Peck's name is not on the ballot.

OLD BALL PLAYER DEAD

DETROIT, Mich.—Sam Thompson, 62 a member of the old Detroit National league baseball team, and one of the best known baseball players of earlier days, died at his home here Tuesday. He had suffered a heart attack this morning, while serving as an election inspector and was stricken a second time after being removed to his home.

A shooting star has a velocity estimated at 20 to 40 miles an hour.

ESCH LAW TURNS BLAINE AGAINST MAN HE BACKED

Wisconsin Governor Opposes
Sidney Anderson With Whom
Bob Beat Tawney in 1912

WINONA, Minn.—Before a crowd that literally packed the Wigwam here Monday night, Governor Blaine advocated the election of Dr. Henrik Shipstead, farmer-labor candidate opposing the re-election of United States Senator Frank B. Kellogg, republican candidate, and Congressman Sidney Anderson, republican candidate for re-election, and who is opposed by another farmer-labor candidate, Dr. J. P. Lyon of Wadena.

Gets Rousing Greeting

It was a wildly enthusiastic crowd that greeted Governor Blaine during his invasion of Minnesota to aid in defeating republican candidates for congressional offices and leading candidates of the farmer-labor ticket.

Senators Kellogg and Lenroot and Congressman Anderson were Blaine's particular targets. They were called by "Representative" of special interests and were charged with "listening to their master's voice."

Congressman Anderson came in for special mention in Blaine's speech because he supported the Esch-Cummings railroad bill.

Governor Blaine explained his interest in the Minnesota campaign by saying "that from decade to decade and from state to state, the issues always are the rights of the people."

Sees Enthusiasm in Election

Governor Blaine was interviewed by a Tribune reporter at the Stoddard hotel Monday night. Despite the rigors of the primary campaign, he looked the picture of health, and was in high spirits.

"I thought I should not again see in any campaign the intense enthusiasm and tumultuous applause that greeted us in the Wisconsin primary campaign," said the governor. "However, if anything, the enthusiasm in Minnesota is even greater. When that vast crowd began shouting 'La Follette for president' at St. Paul, the speaker expended any political demonstration I have ever witnessed."

Blaine Also Fought Tawney

A short film of "The Changing Times" was flashed upon the political screen by this political "god" of Governor John J. Blaine into Southern Minnesota. In the republican primary campaign of 1912, a group of La Follette speakers entered the Winona congressional district to defeat the late James Tawney, then republican and a leader of the "gold standard" for congress. Tom Morris and Otto Bershard were part of this "flying squadron," and prominent in the list of speakers to appear against Tawney was John J. Blaine, then in the state as a leader of the independent candidates in the previous senatorial contest. Governor Blaine, however, was prevented by other engagements from appearing in the fight, but he was "off counsel" in his program.

On that occasion the opponent of Tawney, supported by the entire La Follette-Blaine speakers, was Sydney Anderson, then a young lawyer shortly out of the college of law. They "put him over," defeating one of the most famous "war horses" of the republican party.

Campaigning Against Anderson

"Today Governor Blaine is campaigning against this same Sydney Anderson, who once since he has held the seat which, with the La Follette help, he wrested from Tawney following President Taft's famous 'Winona speech.' The governor is supporting Dr. J. P. Lyon, the farmer-labor candidate, who is opposing Anderson. The chief count against Congressman Anderson, in the general indictment laid against him by his opposition, is his vote for the Esch-Cummings railroad law.

HARDY TO HONOR UNKNOWN SOLDIER ON ARMISTICE DAY

WASHINGTON.—President Harding, Secretary of War Weeks and Secretary of the Navy Denny, with military escort, will go to the grave of the unknown soldier on Armistice Day and leave a wreath there after a brief ceremony which is expected to establish a precedent to be followed throughout the years.

No national holiday will be proclaimed by the president, who is said to feel that the simple exercises at the grave are preferable as expressing official government recognition of the deed.

could not make a statement as to the cause of the explosion, but they did say that the mine had been examined and reported free of gas just a short time before the explosion.

An examination showed that the bones of the explosion lifted the top building from its foundations. This structure must be airtight and for nearly an hour it was not working effectively. Mud was plastered about the cracks and its operations continued.

Movable bulkheads were being constructed Monday. These were attached to the front of mine cars and the miners were going deeper into the mine.

But they had no hope that a living miner would be found in the depths now.

AMERICAN LEGION SEEKS HOME TALENT FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Rehearsal Tonight at Elks' Hall,
Other Meetings at Y. M. C. A.;
Amateurs Asked to Get in

The American Legion minstrel show rehearsal will be held at the Elks hall Tuesday night. In the future rehearsals will be at the Y. M. C. A. building. Although a number of people have signed up for the performance there is room for many men, women, boys and girls in the show. Any one who has not signed in and wants to get in the show can do so by reporting tonight at 7 o'clock.

For those who cannot be present tonight but will come in later, they may notify any of the following, who are members of the talent committee: Myron Locke, Mrs. Frank Schwalbe, Bob Keyes, J. K. Adkins of the normal school and Mr. Pierce of the high school. Eighty people are needed and many more can be used.

APATHY ON PART OF VOTERS MARKS ELECTION IN STATE

They would reduce the Nonpartisan league former vote for Lynn J. Frazier, running for the senate under the republican banner. Frazier's chief strength, his opponents believed, rested with the farmers, whose pilgrimage to the polls was made difficult by bad roads.

Middle West Elects Senators

Nine of the 33 states electing United States senators are commonwealths of the middle west. They are: Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio and Wisconsin. Most of the senatorial contests in these states rank as exceptional nationwide attractions with the Franklin D. Roosevelt contest in New Jersey and others which have drawn national interest.

Here in the states of the Big River valleys the congressional contests play a leading part in determining the full party division of the next session of congress. With the democrats regarded as firmly entrenched as the party tradition in the solid south, the scene of many of the most hotly contested congressional fights in the rest of the nation are laid in the states of the middle west.

Into the Harding administration is put to the supreme test in the year election today. Here in the home state of the president, Congressman Ross, a Harding republican, is challenging the senatorial seat of one of the country's foremost democrats, Arlee Damerene. The chief issue the full length of the ticket in Ohio is President Harding's two year record in the white house.

Vote on Dry Referendum

In Ohio and Illinois beer and wine referendums are before the voters for an expression of sentiment and Missouri presents a real wet and dry fight in the senatorial contest between Senator James A. Reed, democrat, and Reginald Brewster, republican.

Reed, opposed by organized drys and Wilson democrats, relied on many wet republicans, for desert Brewster and rally behind Reed on the prohibition issue.

Aside from the democratic candidacy of a woman, Mrs. J. J. Hooper, who is opposing Senator La Follette, the chief outside interest in Wisconsin centers in the candidacy of Victor Berger, socialist, for the congressional seat to which he was twice elected and from which he was both times unseated.

Another woman democrat is a candidate for the United States senate in the three-cornered race in Minnesota with Senator Kellogg, republican, and Dr. Henrik Shipstead, farmer-labor candidate.

G. O. P. Fights Brookhart

In Iowa one of the features in the senatorial contest was interest in the case of the republican revolt against the party nominee, Smith W. Brookhart. Clyde L. Herring, the democratic candidate, expected support from the republican rebels.

In Nebraska, where Senator Hitchcock and William J. Bryan headed their henchmen after the commoner's nomination for governor, Hitchcock and his republican opponent, R. B. Howell, ended intense campaigns.

Indiana's senatorial contest between former Senator Beveridge, republican, and former Governor Ballston, democrat, and the Michigan battle between Senator Townsend, republican, and former Governor Foraker, are regarded by party managers as among the most important in the mid-west and the nation.

Vote on Bonns

Illinois' chief issue aside from the congressional contests is the fight of Governor Small and Mayor Thompson of Chicago for bi-partisan control of the legislature. The governor and the mayor sought support of candidates, irrespective of party who will

FAME OF WISCONSIN HIGHWAY MARKINGS REACHES FAR LANDS

MADISON, Wis.—The fame of the standard road marking of the Wisconsin highways has traveled beyond the confines of this continent and reached the island of Hawaii.

A copy of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin of October 7 just received by Secretary E. A. Cannon of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin has a double column article on Wisconsin's road marking, headed "Wisconsin Leads the Way When It Comes to Marking Highways and Detours."

The article in question refers to the Wisconsin method as a new "Wisconsin idea" and goes on to praise the efficiency of the system and the highway official of Wisconsin, who devised it. It describes the marking in detail and recommends Hawaii adopt the Wisconsin idea not only for road marking but of guiding travelers over detours.

Last year England adopted the numbered marking system of Wisconsin and its fame now seems to have traveled in another direction and reached the far-flung lands of the Pacific.

Editor Condemned to Death

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By the Associated Press.—Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the Constantinople Anti-Nationalist newspaper, Sabah, has been arrested and condemned to death by the Turkish authorities here, the allies have been informed. Late Monday night the allied representatives gave Rafet Pasha, the new civil governor of the city, forty-eight hours in which to release the editor.

Lloyd George Comments

NEWCASTLE, England.—By the Associated Press.—Lloyd George made some sharp references to the crisis which has arisen in the near east since his fall from the premiership, but the political address which he delivered before a large assembly here Tuesday.

"The near east is beginning to show symptoms of inflammation," he said.

"Whatever happens, our flag must not be let down."

Later on in his speech he said: "We had got rid of the Turk but he has looked at the list of new minorities and come to the conclusion that this is the time for another try."

"If the government hands by the gas, and I don't think it will be wholeheartedly helping them," he said, "I entreat the government to show the Turk that we will not be trifled with and that the Turk must stand by the document signed a few weeks ago at Mudania."

London Anxious

LONDON.—By the Associated Press.—The surprising demands which the Kemalists have made on the allies in Constantinople since the overthrow of the civil government there on Saturday still causes a great deal of anxiety in London. The feeling of uneasiness has been intensified by the receipt of news from Constantinople in the last 36 hours.

All of the London newspapers treat the situation seriously and prominently. Deep suspicion aims of the Turkish nationalists is almost unanimous among the papers and all of them seem worried about the safety of the non-Turkish population at Constantinople.

A Times dispatch from Constantinople dated Monday but not timed said the situation had become most critical and that the Angora government apparently was determined to take advantage of the confused political situation in Great Britain and by a series of accomplished facts to quickly carry out the whole nationalist program despite checks put upon them by the Mudania convention.

The opinion that the Lausanne peace conference must be postponed as the result of recent developments in the near east is becoming ground. But a Reuters dispatch reports that the Kemalists' delegation to the conference had already started for Lausanne.

French Attitude Stiffens

PARIS.—By the Associated Press.—The French government appears to have reached the limit of its patience in dealing with the Turks and is tending more and more to stiffen its attitude toward the Angora government.

This is the interpretation given in political circles here to the sailing of the dreadnaught Jean Bart from Toulon to join the allied fleet at Constantinople in the face of the Angora government's demand that the allied war ships seek permission before entering Turkish ports.

It was said in official circles that the French high commissioner in Constantinople had been instructed to act in full accord with the other allied commissioners in their demand that the terms of the Mudania armistice be complied with in every respect.

The feeling here is that the representatives in Constantinople of the Angora government may be pursuing their present tactics with the idea that it is possible, little by little, to undermine the authority of the allies in advance of the decisions of the Lausanne peace conference.

The allied troops now in Constantinople are regarded as sufficient to maintain order unless there should be a general uprising of the Turks which is looked upon as improbable.

MILTON ROBY IS CLEARED OF CHARGE OF PROFESSIONALISM

Case of Murry, Wisconsin, Not to be Decided by Major
Griffith

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Major J. L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the western conference, Tuesday explained his reasons for handling the inelegibility case of Milton Roby, injured Michigan halfback, and his refusal to investigate charges that Donald Murry, disqualified Wisconsin star, had violated the conference professionalism rule.

The question had been raised, Commissioner Griffith said, "I have an understanding with the ten directors of the conference," Griffith said, "that my office will not investigate charges that any conference athlete has violated the amateur rule prior to June 1, 1922, nor act as a medium through which such charges will be handled."

Before June 1, 1922, only half-hearted attempts were made through the conference to enforce this rule; consequently the boys had a right to feel that infractions of the amateur rule would be overlooked. At the meeting in June, 1922, the directors agreed that they would wholeheartedly and honestly enforce this rule in their respective institutions. Griffith said, "that my office will not investigate charges that any conference athlete has violated the amateur rule prior to June 1, 1922, nor act as a medium through which such charges will be handled."

INVESTIGATE PLOT TO BLOCK JUSTICE IN CHURCH MURDERS

Inquiry Hampered by Refusal of Witnesses to Tell all

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Investigation of reports of a plot to obstruct justice in the Hall-Milla case and to protect the murderers was under way here Tuesday. Special Deputy Attorney General W. A. Mott, who expects to seek the indictment of the "woman in gray" the latter part of the week on the strength of the eye-witness story of Mrs. Jane Gibson, is said to feel that the inquiry has been hampered by the refusal of some of the witnesses to tell all they know. Others it is said, have placed obstacles in the way of the investigators and Mr. Mott intends to prosecute them on charges of being accessories after the fact, in the event he finds evidence supporting the report.

Percy L. Robare and wife from West Burlington, Iowa were here to attend funeral of their brother Charles P. Robare and paid a short visit to his mother, Peppie A. Robare of Douglas Arizona was also here to attend the funeral of his brother, Charles P. Robare and is going to be in La Crosse for a few days as it is his first visit since 1914.

PHOTOGRAPH JOHN D. JR. AS HE CASTS HIS VOTE

NEW YORK.—A news photographer Tuesday prevailed upon John D. Rockefeller Jr. to submit to a picture while he deposited his vote in the ballot box.

But when the photographer asked for another pose Mr. Rockefeller demurred.

"They might think I'm a repeater," he objected.

He finally submitted to a second exposure after exacting a promise that the first photo be destroyed.

MANY ACTIVITIES AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOW

Busy Week in Prospect With Conventions, Dinners and
Other Meetings

(By the Secretary.)

Quite frequently someone wonders at 7 asks on the street "What is the Chamber of Commerce doing?" If the people who make inquiries of this kind would go just one step farther and ask the Chamber of Commerce what is going on they would be very easily enlightened about the many things that occur at the Chamber daily. If the average man who makes the inquiry would utilize the same amount of time in doing something for the community a great deal could be accomplished for La Crosse.

It is an admitted fact that La Crosse has the possibilities and opportunities and it is going to be just what its citizens want it to be. What will be done is decided by its citizens. The following will give anyone an idea of what happens at the Chamber this week:

Tuesday at 7:30, Wisconsin Buttermakers Association convention; Wednesday, 9:30, Wisconsin Buttermakers Association; 1:30 meeting of chairman of program committees; 6:15 dinner to Wisconsin Buttermakers Association, Thursday, 9:30, Wisconsin Buttermakers convention; 12, Rotary weekly luncheon meeting; 1:30 Ford car committee; 4:00, finance committee of the Chamber; 6:00, American Legion dinner; 7:30, holiday opening and Shop Party Campaign committee; Friday, 11:30, program committee; 1:30, program committee; 4:30, board of directors meeting; 7:30, Boy Scouts; Saturday the Red Cross roll call will use the auditorium for headquarters.

In addition to the number of meetings which occur at the Chamber daily, there are dozens of visitors making inquiries about the possibilities of La Crosse and asking for statistical information—all this in addition to the regular office work and correspondence proves conclusively that the Chamber of Commerce is busy and worth while.

It is believed that paper pulp can be made from corn cobs, according to chemists.

FOLLIES SOPRANO VERSATILE WOMAN, REPORTER, SINGER

Was Big-town Journalist When Alice Neilson Put Her on Stage

Not everybody has a charming voice that can stir to sympathy and interest a throng of people. Not everybody, still young and glib, can lead a newspaper career that includes the Kansas City Star and the New York Times and New York Herald as the fields of its activities. Not everybody can be a linguist, speaking French, Italian, German, Russian and English. Yet all these things, and more besides, are true of Margaret Merle, prima donna of "Broadway Follies," the playhouse which forms an important part of Shubert's Vandeventer at the Theatre Wednesday Nov. 8th.

As for the more important, Miss Merle has only to look at you with her eager eyes and tell you of the things she has done and what she means to do, to convince you that she is worth what she is. She is still too young to have the greatest role in her career anywhere but in her future, but what she has done is interesting and promises much for the time that is to come. She is a prima donna now on the vaudeville stage, but she has aspirations for grand opera.

Miss Merle was at work on the Kansas City Star, her home city, when Alice Neilson, of a Kansas City, heard her sing and took her to New York as a member of her "Follies Follies" company. Then the Follies started out into the world and Miss Merle, not only engaged in newspaper work in New York, but as a vaudeville singer became an institution in the New York Parks and Playgrounds. She even sang at the time of the World's Fair. After the war she took up singing again.

Miss Merle comes of a theatrical family. The "Gosses," Wallaces and Nads, the last known "heaven" of the scene, are her cousins. She has been in the Follies for a long time, and she is making the newspaper faithful proud to claim her as a member.

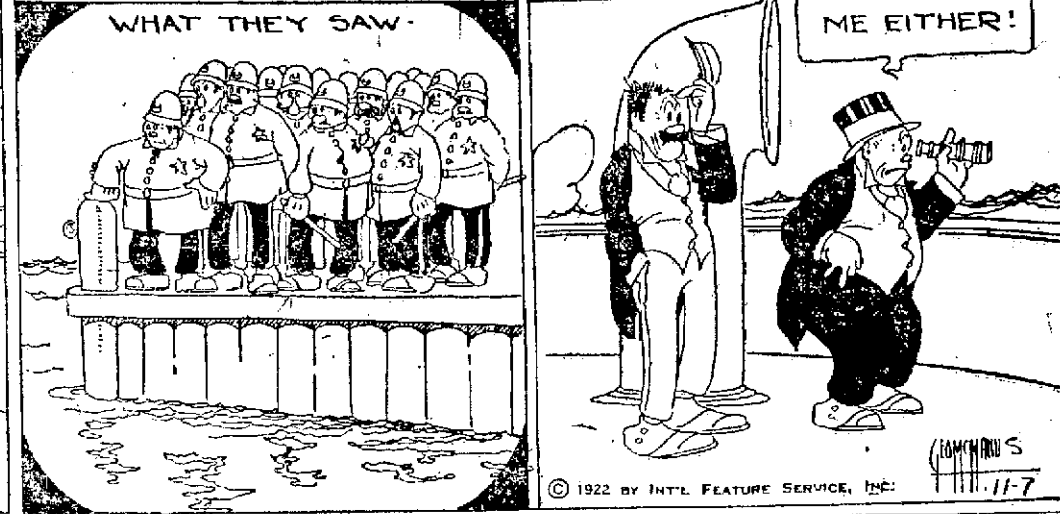

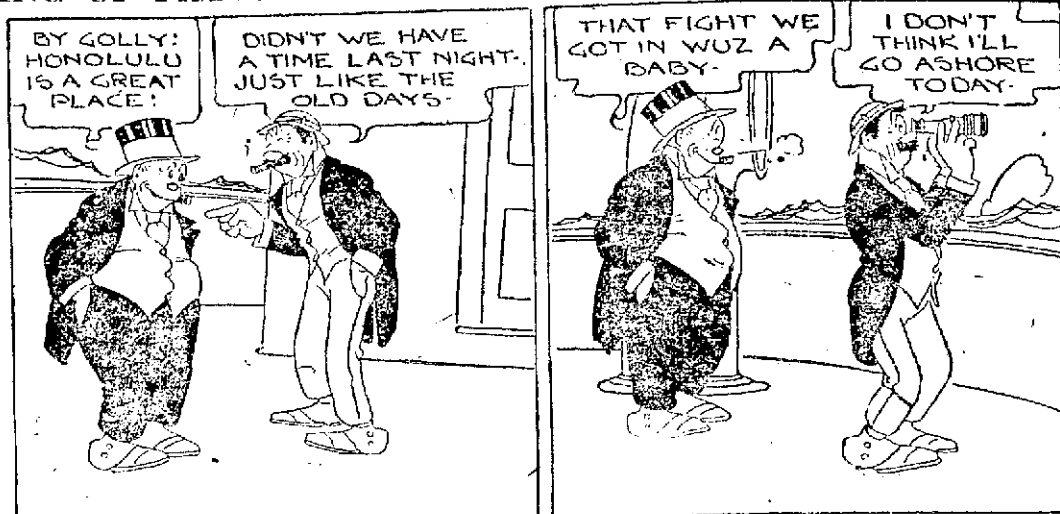

PROGRESSIVE BODY OF WOMEN AT WORK ON ITS PROGRAM

MADISON, Wis.—The legislative program of the Wisconsin Progressive Women's association, which played a large part in the advance of the campaign, will be determined at the state convention of the organization here this January.

Miss Helen Turner, chairman of the legislative committee, announced that a meeting of the legislative committee would be held in Madison, November 15. The meeting will gather and discuss several hundred suggestions for legislation submitted by local chapters of the organization, and the committee will report to the annual convention here to decide what measures will be supported by their organization.

The legislative committee includes Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Charles L. Root, representing the Beloit district; Mrs. Mary L. Collins, Eau Claire; Mrs. F. H. Hanson, Juneau county; and Mrs. J. Johnson, of Barrington county. They, other members will be appointed before the meeting next week.

BRINGING UP FATHER

WOMAN'S STORY MAY SHED MORE LIGHT ON MURDER OF SHIELDS

Tells of Seeing Men Carrying Sack Containing Body to Volga River

MOSCOW.—By The Associated Press.—The police at Simsbury, who are investigating the disappearance of three weeks ago of Philip J. Shields, American Relief worker, are holding a woman who told them that late on the evening of October 18 she saw two men carrying a sack from which two human legs protruded. This information, along with the announcement that the police no longer are looking for the body in the hope of finding Shields' body, was received here by Col. William H. Haskell, head of the American relief forces from Joseph Dalton, his representative at Simsbury.

The woman, who was arrested, lives near the place where Shields' body was found. In her deposition she wrote that when she was out walking late in the evening of the eighteenth she came upon two men standing near a sack that lay on the ground. She overheard one of the men say "Shall we take it there or to the river?" and the other man answered "Be careful, some one might hear you."

Then, according to the deposition, the man attempted to shoulder the sack, but it broke and the woman saw two legs protruding. She said she recognized the shoes as tan oxford shoes of American make. The men started down toward the river and the woman was unable to follow, she declared.

The authorities arrested the woman in the belief that she was an accessory. They declare the chances are seven to ten that Shields was murdered.

SLEEP-WALKER IS KILLED BY TRAIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—William N. Miller, 25, a department store employee, was killed by a Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo railway train Tuesday while walking in his sleep. His body was found along the railroad tracks about four blocks from his home. Relatives said he had frequently walked in his sleep.

GIRL STUDENTS ARE GIVEN LONG SKID OVER EMBANKMENT

WINONA, Minn.—Five girl students of the University of Wisconsin and their chauffeur, returning from the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game at Minneapolis, resumed their journey to Madison after escaping injury when their automobile slipped and skidded over a fifty-foot embankment on the river road two miles south of Minneapolis, plunging to the railway right of way below.

The automobile remained upright, landing clear of the tracks. But for a severe shaking up, the occupants escaped unhurt.

The car was little damaged, the spare tire carried on the rear being torn off and the front axle bent. The automobile was brought to Winona on its own power after being returned to the road with the aid of a wrecking car from a Winona garage. It was necessary to haul the automobile down the tracks a distance of a half mile to a crossing before it could be placed back on the main highway.

Two of the girls, who registered their names at a local hotel as Eleanor Day and Ruth Parkhill, were brought to Winona by Arthur Steffen, who happened to be returning from a hunting trip up north. The other three were brought to Winona by W. A. Baucum, who was coming to Winona from Minneapolis.

The chauffeur, who gave his name as S. S. Levittin, stayed with the automobile.

COUNTY HUMANE SOCIETY WILL BE PERFECTED

State Officer Frederick to be Here Friday Night for Initial Meeting

The organization of a county humane society for La Crosse county is contemplated, according to a notice from State Humane Officer, A. E. Frederick, who will be here to effect the organization. A public meeting will be held at the court house in La Crosse on Friday evening, November 10th at 7:30 o'clock, to which every one is invited. At this meeting a county humane society will be organized, arrangements for its incorporation made, officers and a board of directors elected, and plans discussed to further the humane cause in this county. Address:

ses by local citizens are also contemplated. In sending official notice of this meeting to this paper, Dr. Frederick urgently requests the public to show an interest in the movement and to be present at the meeting. He hopes for a country-wide attendance by so that officers and directors may be elected from various places around the county.

BOMB ALDERMAN'S HOME

CHICAGO, Ill.—A bomb explosion early Monday jolted Alderman William R. O'Toole and his family from bed and damaged their residence in West Garfield boulevard. The alderman said he was unable to assign any cause for the attack, although the police supposition was that a possible political animus may be behind it.

It is not words that give strength to friendship but a similarity of interests.—Demosthenes.

MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S COLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Whatever else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, sore throat or congestion, be sure to first open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poison and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation poison, sour bile and waste right out. Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must use "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, earache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Mononaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Olive Oil Makes Soap Green but Clothes White

Probably you do not know that the ordinary laundry soap contains a large quantity of "filler," including water, sand, lime, etc. The women who do know this are careful to get the new GREEN ARROW bar made by The Palmolive Co. It is all soap, hence all cleaning power, and contains real olive oil and soda.

The chemist examined 27 other popular brands and found from 25% to 50% of them far less "filler."

That is why fabric makers would not think of washing their fine materials with soap you wash them with after you buy them.

The fabric experts use olive oil soap because there is nothing like it to soften and preserve the fibers and colors, or bring out whiteness and lustrousness.

Imagine how waterless "filler" must eat your clothes when it gets ground into the threads in the wash, and then turns sharp and brittle when your clothes dry.

The thin spots, frayed edges and little holes that you think are caused by "wash wear" are usually caused by "filler" in the soap. You cannot see the fine, colorless particles that grind and rot the fabric.

"Filler" has no more cleaning power than sandstone does. Until you use GREEN ARROW, you cannot know how much easier it would be to wash with pure soap, and how many bars you would save.

Many women who have tried GREEN ARROW write letters like these: "The work GREEN ARROW soap does is wonderful. I was able to do my washing with half the amount of soap that I generally use, with better results."—Mrs. G. E. "GREEN ARROW goes farther than the soap I have been using. It is better than other soaps because it is milder on the hands, and the clothes have a sweeter odor."—Mrs. A. E. V.

Employee Partnership a Big Factor In Efficiency

IN its issue of Oct. 1, 1922, the Chicago Tribune says, "In this field (industrial peace) there is much to be hoped for from intelligent effort to induce investment by employees in the industry or business in which they are employed.  If the millions that have been lost in ill-advised strikes could have been invested in shares in the enterprise, the workers in many cases would have accomplished the benefits they sought."

The acknowledged efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in no small measure to the fact that every employee of the Company, if he will, may become a partner in the business by taking advantage of the stock-purchase-plan. To the amount of stock subscribed for by the employee, the Company gives one-half, and the employee is allowed to pay in small monthly installments. Thus he has an excellent investment which he can watch and help make more profitable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employees are insuring through investment, the present well-being and future security of their families, an end which every man is striving to accomplish. These men and women know that the Company is genuinely interested in furthering their welfare. Their energies, therefore, are released from worry over the future and are turned to increased efficiency that comes with enthusiasm.

Wholehearted co-operation is essential to the conduct of any business. The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes this fact and believes that no better way to secure this co-operation can be devised than by giving every employee an opportunity to become a partner in the business. The enthusiastic response which the employees have given to this plan proves conclusively that the Company has solved a problem of importance to the Company, the employee, and the public.

There is no idle time nor decreased efficiency due to disputes, discontent, or misunderstandings to be charged into the consumers' bills. Every employee of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is delivering full-time and energy to the performance of his task, and this work is to him a pleasure, not a task.

It is submitted that this is another item in that cycle of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders the public.

KETCHEL HANDS K. O. TO MARINO IN TEN ROUNDS ON MONDAY

Wind-up Battle of American Legion Show a Fine Exhibition of Courage

REYNOLDS SHADES GOURDOUX IN SIX-ROUND SEMI-FINAL

Gaskill and Billy Reynolds Stopped Early in Bout

Joe KETCHEL, Chicago bantam, dropped a K. O. punch to Johnny Marino's jaw in the last round of their ten-round wind-up battle to the American Legion boxing show at the La Crosse Monday night. The fight, which was the first of the evening, was a fine exhibition of courage and skill. Ketchel, who is a former champion, was in excellent condition and showed his power in the first round. Marino, who is a former champion, was in excellent condition and showed his power in the first round.

Ketchel and Marino, the latter a Minneapolis scrapper, were looked to fight in 115 pounds, but both were underweight at three o'clock. Ketchel tipped the scale at 117 pounds, while Marino went 115. Though it looked like Ketchel's fight with Marino, the first round, public sentiment was with Marino all the way through, mainly because of his clean fighting, dogged persistence and remarkable courage. The little fellow took an awful beating and wasn't put away until about the last half minute of the bout.

Ketchel started with a rush in the first round, and landed several telling blows to the head and face. He seemed to have a slight advantage in strength. Marino's punch was quite a bit shorter. The second round was more evenly fought, but Ketchel did most of the offensive work and again found Marino's jaw several times with his wicked upper cut.

Marino's Comeback

In the third round a well placed blow rendered Marino groggy and a couple more to the jaw sent him to the canvas. He remained there for the count of three, then staggered to his feet only to be sent back again for another time. He hung on a gall and in the fourth round landed a jab to the face that had the fans on their feet. He led all the way in the fourth and landed several clean punches, which, however, seemed to lack the telling effect.

Most of the fight was Ketchel's punch. Marino did his share of fighting, but his punches were not as effective as Ketchel's. Marino's opponent was a former champion and was in excellent condition. Marino's opponent was a former champion and was in excellent condition. Marino's opponent was a former champion and was in excellent condition.

Semi-Windup

Buddy Reynolds, normal school teacher, had slightly the best of the argument with Chris Gourdox, Platteville river woodman, in their six-round semi-final battle. Though the former had a knockout in the first round, Gourdox was unable to land any decisive blows, and Reynolds' powerful right swing landed on his jaw with staggering effect repeated. Even at that it was pretty close and the last two rounds when Reynolds seemed to find his opponent's weak spot and drove several powerful short jabs to his body under his right arm.

Gourdox was pretty much all in at the end of the six rounds, and the general opinion seemed to be that it would only have taken another round or two to finish him completely. Reynolds was in fine condition, but was one pound overweight, being 153, Gourdox was 151, but didn't claim the forfeit.

Young Gaskill, a La Crosse boy, taking his first professional fight, didn't get very far with Charley Sauer of Hohok in the first preliminary bout. Gaskill was outclassed from the start, and his seconds saved him from a knockout in the first round by throwing his towel in the ring. Besides his greater experience, Sauer had a nine pound advantage in weight.

The second prelim lasted only two rounds. Billy Reynolds, substituting for Martin who was called home because of the death of his baby and the serious illness of his wife, was roughly handled by Jim O'Connell, the Altona freeman. O'Connell is a powerfully built brawler, and had his adversary coming from the start. The referee stopped the bout in the second after Reynolds had gone twice to the canvas. Reynolds deserves credit for his showing, however, since he first knew that he was to appear last Saturday, having only two days to get into shape. Reynolds was out-weighted eight pounds.

Joe Steiner of the physical education department of the University of Wisconsin, who officiated at the bouts, gave a short talk in which he appealed to the fight fans of the city to let behind the American Legion in their efforts to bring boxing back to La Crosse. The Legion, roughly figured, broke nearly even on Monday night.

Gabel Entertains
Al Gabel and his harmony dance orchestra, which has pleased dance patrons at Women hall on various occasions, donated their services for the entertainment of the crowd before the fights started Monday night. Their efforts were heavily applauded.

LONDON.—Dick Smith of England lost George Cook, Australian heavyweight, in the fifteenth round of their scheduled twenty round bout. Cook's seconds threw a towel in the ring.
TRENTON, N. J.—Jack Colligan, Remond Canadian heavyweight champion, knocked out Jack Hyatt of Battle Creek, Mich., in the second round.

BIG TEN RACE SIMMERS DOWN TO FIGHT BETWEEN FOUR CONFERENCE SQUADS

Iowa Appears to Have Best Chance of Coming Through Undefeated; Minnesota or Ohio May Upset Dope

This Week's Games
Wisconsin vs. Illinois.
Iowa vs. Minnesota at Iowa City.
Chicago vs. Ohio State at Columbus.
Northwestern vs. Purdue at Evanston.
Indiana vs. West Virginia at Bloomington.
By BOB DUNN.

Last Saturday's game decided definitely that Wisconsin is in to be in the running for the coveted conference football honors in the final dash of the Big Ten race. The fight has simmered down to a test of power between Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan and Chicago, and with three more weeks of conference competition, Iowa appears to be the team having the best chance to come through with a clean record because of the fact that the Iowans meet Minnesota, Ohio State and Northwestern in the November games remaining. Of Michigan and Chicago, each must meet and conquer Wisconsin to come through with a clean slate. Michigan continued to impress the west with her strength last Saturday by piling up 63 points against the Michigan Aggie eleven. The Wolverines have an open date this week in which to prepare for their hardest remaining match with Wisconsin. Coach Ketchel, who will be here to watch the Badger, will have to watch the Badger, who will have to watch the Badger, who will have to watch the Badger.

Gophers May Stop Iowa
In Minnesota lies the best chance of stopping Iowa although Ohio State might do the unexpected and upset the Iowans in the Big Ten championship game. Ohio State's record is 1-1, while Iowa's is 1-0. The Gophers will have to watch the Badger, who will have to watch the Badger, who will have to watch the Badger.

Among the two contenders it appears to be a matter of winning from Coach Richards' perspective so the Badgers will have a real job on their hands to continue in the running. As far as the Illinois are concerned, Coach Zupke will be bending every effort to accomplish more than even his brilliant career merits in order to avenge recent defeats at the hands of Wisconsin and get some satisfaction from the conference brawl over eligibility that has been waging between the athletic authorities of the two institutions.

On the other hand, Coach Richards will put forth everything he has to win the big homecoming encounter against the Badgers even if it would have to be done at the cost of later defeats. The recent squabble between the two teams has not been known before in Illinois-Wisconsin athletic relations and much of the feeling will find an outlet in the big contest this week. Wisconsin, of course, will be the heavy favorite because of its showing against Minnesota last week but much can be expected from Zupke. His team demonstrated in the Iowa game that they have power which might become formidable in any game if it is re-enforced by a couple of breaks.

Chicago and Ohio Test
Chicago and Ohio State both entered a test last Saturday and will be pitted for the annual battle at game time. The test was the first test since the start of the season. Chicago, which has enjoyed a successful season as far as the conference is concerned but has not met any of the Big Ten competition. Ohio State, for several years a strong contender in the race, has been defeated by the Iowans and the Badgers. The test was the first test since the start of the season.

The three games between Wisconsin and Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, and Chicago and Ohio State are among the most interesting in the middle of the week. In each case the contest represents a battle between a team on the one hand and a team on the other. The game with Michigan will also be a chance to meet the leader of the conference. The game with Wisconsin will be the second homecoming in which Captain Williams' men will feature. The game with Michigan will also be a chance to meet the leader of the conference.

TILDEN WILL NOT BE HANDICAPPED BY INFECTED FINGER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, national tennis champion, will lose the first joint of the middle finger of his right hand, according to Dr. W. H. Swarney, Jr., physician at the Greenmount hospital. Dr. Swarney said Tuesday that he did not expect the infected finger to stiffen and interfere with Tilden's playing ability. The first joint has become gangrenous and will drop off, he added. Tilden is cheerful and confident that there will be no interference with his tennis playing.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUAD REGISTERS ITS FIFTH VICTORY OF SEASON

Keogan Preparing for Classic of Local's Schedule Next Saturday

GREAT INTEREST MANIFEST IN LANE TECH GAME HERE

Wisconsin Rapids Gives Locals First Real Test

The biggest victory of the season was staged at Wisconsin Rapids for the Red and Black gridiron pounders Saturday. This makes the fifth registered victory on the schedule.

Looking back, Tomah was the first victim of La Crosse. It was Tomah's third game and La Crosse's first, the result being a 15 to 0 victory for the latter. Sparta was then encountered on the home field and trounced to the tune of 65 to 0. The locals next went to Winona and against some strong competition and piled up a score of 32 to 0. Dan Claiborne then came to La Crosse with the greatest of things, leading the Red and Black to a 20 to 0 victory. Incidentally, their 20 points were all made at the time when Coach Keogan had his second string backfield in the lineup and a majority of the front line consisted of substitute players.

Perhaps the only real competition so far this season was furnished by the Wisconsin Rapids eleven, but it gave Keogan's men a chance to demonstrate clever football and try out a few trick plays.

The remainder of the season will tell absolutely what chance La Crosse has for the state title. They are already feared by all of the other contenders. Prospects are bright as the team plays a much more superior game than any team already played on the schedule. But next Saturday La Crosse will meet what is thought to be her match. Lane Technical high school of Chicago possesses a team that knows football from A to Z. Although they have met with a few defeats, they were at the hands of real football teams and coaches.

GIBBONS AND COLLINS BARRED FROM STAGING BOUTS FOR PRESENT

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middleweight boxer, and Mike Collins, Minneapolis promoter, who have been managing a string of boxers, have been temporarily barred from staging bouts, by the state boxing commission. It became known Tuesday.

Johnny O'Donnell, Mark Moore, Billy Stearns, boxers, also have been barred pending an investigation by the commission. Reports of an alleged allegedly staged fight card at Albert Lea last Friday night.

Gibbons and Collins are found guilty of the charges they may be kept from putting on bouts in Minnesota for two years and the others would be subject to fines. Gibbons denied any connection with the Albert Lea affair.

BADGER SQUAD MASTERING OLD FORMATIONS FOR BIG HOMECOMING WITH ILLINI

By BOB DUNN
Coach Richards spent little time last night getting the kinks out of his men. Players and coaches had evidently gone over the mistakes of the Minnesota battle before reporting for practice Monday night for the regular squad went to work at once mastering old formations and plays and developing a new attack which can be used in the hard games to come.

The team came through last week's game in good condition considering the fierceness of the battle. No one was laid out seriously although several of the linemen were considerably banged up and Williams, Gibson and Taff all carried scars of the game with the Gophers. The regular Badger backfield, however, should be intact against Illinois unless injuries in this week's work interfere.

Many of the regulars saw little action last night, giving way to subs who did not appear on Saturday. The coach continued to use Oplitz in the backfield and gives evidence of the fact that he will use him more during the remaining games now that Harris is on the injured list. Just how serious are Harris' injuries received in practice is not known but the big boy may not appear again this year although there is a possibility that he will get back.

Although again carried from the field in the Minnesota tilt, Gibson was back Monday ready for more action. It is expected that the week will find little change in the Badger lineup because of the showing of the forward wall against Minnesota.

As stated last week, Wisconsin will be preparing for each game from now on as it is encountered. With the Gophers out of the way, Coach Richards will be preparing directly for Illinois but the Badgers are not forgetting the Snappers although neither have they forgotten the important game with Michigan the following Saturday.

May Be Difficult Game
In some ways the Homecoming game may be as difficult as the contest with Minnesota for doubtless Zupke will have his men better drilled in stopping a passing game than did Spaulding. Zupke is familiar with the passing attack of the Badgers and should have better success in stopping it. On the other hand, given a field in good condition, the fleet Cardinal backs would be able to perform to better advantage than they did in their first stiff grid.

The only positions in the line about which there is any doubt are guard jobs and Murry's tackle. While the guards put up a good game last week, there is still room for improvement and improvement will have to be shown for the other big battles. KEELER PREPARING FOR BATTLE WITH OSHKOSH SATURDAY

River Falls Game is Protested Because of Alleged Ineligible Player

NORTHERNERS USE ZEBELL DESPITE LOCAL'S PROTEST

Mattison Sustains Injury to Skull Last Week

Not to be discouraged by their defeat Friday at the hands of River Falls, Coach Keeler's team settled down for a hard week's work in preparation for the tough battle with Oshkosh on Anniversary Day. Oshkosh was defeated by Platteville Saturday and are out for blood in even matters as La Crosse has beaten the south-crners.

Mattison Severely Injured
The team survived the game in fairly good condition Friday, but a few valuable men were injured. Murphy hurt his hip and will be laid up for a few days. Mattison, one of the most valuable men on the team will probably be out of the game for the rest of the season. At River Falls he sustained an injury to his head. Under a physician's care he will have to remain quiet for a few weeks. His loss will be keenly felt as he was a hard man to beat in his position and has been playing a fine game this season. His shoes will probably be filled by Lewis or Dunlap. Passover the giant guard injured his knee and it is doubtful whether or not he will be able to get in a suit this week.

Locals Have Chance
La Crosse's chances for championship are not entirely shattered. If action is taken against River Falls for playing Zebell, and the protest goes through and Oshkosh is defeated, La Crosse will be up among the leaders. Dan Claiborne has finished his schedule and has yet to taste defeat this season. Whitewater is another school which has not been defeated this fall. Their victory over Milwaukee gives them a good claim. In case La Crosse wins Saturday and also is awarded the protested game with River Falls there will be a three-cornered tie in the conference this year.

Schedule will be held at Normal Field every day except Monday and Thursday. The weather is ideal for good football and Coach Keeler is expecting some snappy results this week.

The Truth About a new-type Shaving Cream

Gentlemen:
A new-type Shaving Cream excels in five ways the cream you now are using.
If this is true, you want it. If it isn't true, ten shaves will show it up.
So we ask you to send for a Trial Tube. Shave ten times with it at our cost. Compare it with the cream you use. Then adopt it or reject it, according to results.

These 5 ways
Palmolive Shaving Cream, in these five ways, is the greatest shaving cream in existence.
Abundance—It multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
Quickness—It softens the beard in one minute.
Durability—The lather maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face.
Strength—The bubbles are strong. They support the hairs for cutting, while weak bubbles let the hairs fall down.
After Effects—The blend of palm and olive oils leaves the face in fine condition.

Be fair to us
Be fair to yourself and to us. We are famous soap chemists of 60 years' experience. The leading toilet soap of the world—Palmolive—is one of our creations.
Now we have perfected a Shaving Cream which in five ways stands supreme. We tried out and tested 130 formulas to best meet your desires.
You should know that cream. Ask us to mail you a ten-shave test. Cut out the coupon now.

Do you think before you smoke?

If you believe in thinking before you act—you will think before you smoke. Cigars are not all alike. There are as many varieties as there are of foods and liquids. In the long run, the cigar that will give you greatest enjoyment is the cigar best suited to your physical make-up. Mozart is made particularly for the man who does his best work at high pressure—the man of high nervous energy, who thinks fast and moves fast. Mozart's "mild Havana fragrance" will satisfy him but not "over-smoke" him. If a mild cigar is best suited to you, try Mozarts for a week—and watch.

VERSATILE COMEDY COMPANY MAKES BIG HIT AT MAJESTIC

Billy Maine's Comedians are Cleverest People Seen in La Crosse for Some Time

No doubt about it. La Crosse likes the kind of shows Billy Maine's comedians are putting on at the Majestic theater. Packed houses and hearty applause prove it.

Did you see "A Woman in the Case" played by this clever company at the Majestic theater last night? Take a tip. Don't miss it even if you have to go without gloves and freeze your hands all winter. You won't be the only one. Gloves got Jefferson Ruggles into so much trouble that he's never going to touch them again. No, not by a—well anyway that's what he said. And that's not half of it. Oh my no! Three husbands are going to tell their wives nothing but the truth after this. No more Alimony's too expensive.

Mrs. Dillingham would have trusted her husband absolutely. But just let Jefferson Ruggles try to slip something over on his watchful lady. Especially gloves. Ha! Lies, lies and more lies. And an usual woman (it says) "This time though, meek and weak" Charley Brooks helps a little. Oh huh, as little as he can under the circumstances.

The vaudeville interspersed between acts and during the presentation of the comedy is a show in itself. It's worth the price of admission just to hear the woman in the cast sing "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold." Oh no, no, no, it doesn't take that long. Of course it lasts only a few minutes but she had to come back twice. Enough said.

"Chile Bean" sung by Marie Maine and danced by a clever chorus was catchy and was one of the big hits of the evening.

"A Barrage of Harmony" put on by the Harmony Bands quartet was enjoyed three or four times.

The Dancing Butlers try to decide which is more popular, jazz or classical dancing. They put it up to the audience. Mabel Truener charms her audience with her skillful playing of both very difficult classical music and jazz.

"A Woman in the Case" is at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. "Don't Neglect Your Wife" starring beautiful Mabel Julianne Scott is on the same program.

SUPERIOR HAS 16,801 VOTERS

SUPERIOR, Wis.—There are 16,801 people registered in the city of Superior for the general election. It was announced by M. G. Beckley, city clerk, Monday night.

Several people who will be absent from the city on election day, or for other reasons will be unable to come to the polls, voted by mail or came into the office of the city clerk to cast their ballots.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to cure a cough and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep home without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

In a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never hurts, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

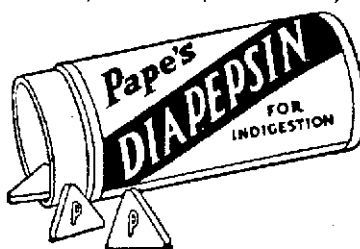

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WES HAD TO TAKE BATH IN ICE WATER

"That's a mean trick to play on a guy," shouted Wesley Barry after he had dived into a bath tub and as promptly got out again. The dive was in connection with the filming of "Rags to Riches" Warner Brothers' latest production, which is playing at the Rivoli in conjunction with four acts of vaudeville. When Wes investigated, he found that Producer Harry Rapf had put ice shavings into the water. This was the reason why "Freckles" Wes lost no time in leaving, and after the cameraman had caught the scene, the director complimented Wesley on having done the best acting of his career.

RIVIERA TODAY

A peculiar thing about Owen Moore's next picture which bears the rather cynical title "Love Is An Awful Thing" is that the most important factors in its writing, directing and acting are newsworthy.

Victor Heerman, who has been married less than a year, wrote the story and directed it. His wife, Sarah Y. Mason, adapted it to the screen. Owen Moore, also a newlywed, is the star and his young bride, Kathryn Perry, plays one of the leading female roles. However, all concerned in the production of this picture which is showing at the Riviera theater tonight claim there is nothing in it based on personal experiences that is speaking in a general way. Many of the scenes are of a character which will appear natural to new-layers and if they have a sense of humor they will enjoy them to the utmost.

RIVIERA WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

While screen critics everywhere agree that Harry Carey has stood at the top rank among film stars for the last few years it is generally recognized now that he is in a class by himself as a portrayal of Western roles. And the production that has done more than any other to cement Mr. Carey's position at the very top of the cinema heap is his latest and greatest vehicle "Good Men and True," at the Riviera Theater Wednesday and Thursday.

Carey has endeared himself to hundreds of thousands of cinema fans by the sheer effect of hard-boiled work. His unusual talents of directly in front of them.

course have helped him in his rapid climb to the pinnacle but hard work is the secret of his success because Mr. Carey says so himself.

STRAND TODAY

The patrons of the Strand theater last evening took off their hats and blue glasses to the delightful new Selznick comedy feature, "Chivalrous Charley." Frankly, there is not a dull moment in the entire footage of this snappy tale of the adventures in New York of Charley Reilly, late from the West, and nephew of a political boss and millionaire.

Returning from cow-punching on the plains, where Charley endeavored to rid himself of a temperamental habit of helping beautiful women in distress, this young Irishman finds that he has jumped out of the frying pan into the fire when he hits Broadway.

Charming Nancy Deaver, George Pawcett with Huntley Gordon, are the principals in the supporting cast.

REALISTIC STORY AT THE MAJESTIC

A realistic story of domestic life in youthful San Francisco in the romantic period of 1870 is "Don't Neglect Your Wife," the Eminent Authors production for Goldwyn of Gertrude Altherton's first original screen story. It pulses and thrills with the very heart-beat of life itself and might happen tomorrow to your next-door neighbor. It is interpreted by a great all-star cast headed by Mabel Julianne Scott, Lewis S. Stone, and Charles Chary.

"Don't Neglect Your Wife" is the attraction at the Majestic theater for today and Wednesday. This is a photoplay which you should not miss.

TRIO OF WISCONSIN STATE OFFICIALS WILL BE REPLACED

Johnson and Morgan Defeated in Primary and Hall Not Candidate for Re-election

MADISON, Wis.—Three state officers will be displaced by Tuesday's general election in Wisconsin, two of them as the result of defeat at the September primary.

State Treasurer Henry Johnson after ten years in his present office will see a successor elected to take his place. Mr. Johnson Wednesday will start to make plans for returning to his farm home in Oconto county.

Attorney General William J. Morgan, after one term in his present office, will retire to make way for the new attorney general named Tuesday. He plans to return to the practice of law in Milwaukee after the inauguration of his successor in January.

Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, who was not a candidate for re-election, will return to Green Bay when his successor takes office. It is expected by his friends that he will return to Madison before long to fill an appointive office, either to the state board of control or insurance commission. Mr. Hall served

Some staggering constipation facts; Know how Kellogg's Bran can help you.

Ninety out of every one hundred people suffer from constipation! Constipation is the direct cause of breakdown in old age, lowered vitality and ninety per cent of illness! Do you realize that nearly every case of constipation is traceable to neglect in answering nature's call? In a few years the sufferer has "latent constipation"—the most dangerous form of all! Toxic poisons penetrate the intestine walls, polluting the blood, which in turn poisons and affects every organ in the body. Nearly every case of diabetes and Bright's disease can be traced to constipation or intestinal poisoning, as can most rheumatism, headache, brain pain, hardening of arteries and other organic diseases. Pills and cathartics can never afford you permanent relief. What you need is nature's most wonderful roughage—BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—and delicious in flavor and edibility! Bran will permanently relieve constipation when taken regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in severe cases, with every meal! Your doctor will endorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation! Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the eliminative tract as nothing else can—and, being a nature food, it creates no habit. Bran's work is a revelation! Serve Kellogg's Bran to the entire family as a cereal, with other cereals or in countless appetizing ways such as in muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc. Recipes on every package. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a pimply complexion. is nature's most wonderful roughage—

THE CHILD WELFARE LEAGUE MEETS IN HIGH ENGLISH ROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller Happily Surprised in Honor of their 15th Wedding Day

WEST SALEM, Wis.—The Child Welfare League will meet in the English room at the high school on Thursday afternoon, November 9, at 3:30. Miss Schwanke will give a book review of "Mother" by Kathleen Norris. Miss Villard will talk on "Help of Parents in Disciplining the School." Ted Day will give a recitation, "You Bet I Won't Say Don't!"

The Halloween party given at the high school proved to be a very successful event. There were costumes of every description, prizes being awarded to Theodore Belles for Jerry the Cat, and Kenneth Harris, an attractive young lady. Alumni and parents as well as friends enjoyed the evening with the high school students. Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller were pleasantly surprised Monday evening. The occasion was in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. The evening was spent at 7:00 and at midnight lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were presented with crystal articles.

Annette McDonald entertained thirty boys and girls at supper Thursday in honor of her eleventh birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Edwin Jackson entertained twenty friends at a Halloween party on Tuesday evening.

James and Evelyn McElweeney accompanied Dr. Lynn Gullickson to Iron River on Sunday, Oct. 29, where Mrs. Gullickson has been visiting the past month. Dr. and Mrs. Gullickson and Evelyn McElweeney returned home on Wednesday but James remained for a week, visiting with his grand parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pettigall, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Pettigall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith, Dr. S. L. Davis, Mrs. Elmer Samuels, Mrs. Charles Hodges and Mrs. Walter Smith attended the mission conference at La Crosse on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. C. Cushman of Cushman, Oregon, spent last week with her old school friend, Mrs. Lottie McElweeney, whom she had not seen in thirty-five years.

Mrs. Nettie Johnson has sold her home in La Crosse and will make her home for the present with her sister, Mrs. Celestia Smith.

Mr. William Bradley, Mrs. John McElweeney, Mrs. Florence Samuels, Mrs. Lorraine Brown and Miss Nellie Spear visited friends in Winona on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Sparling, Mrs. Marion Peterson and Mrs. William McElweeney last Sunday.

B. Bieber, the storekeeper who has for the last few years been in charge of the Riddison building, moved his stock to Trempealeau Wednesday and will open a store.

The Study club met on Monday with Mrs. H. Selden. The lesson was in chapter XXI, Leader, Miss Mary McElweeney. Special topics were given by Mrs. B. E. Ottman, Mrs. Oliver Gullickson, Mrs. Bert Smith and Mrs. Charles Knudson.

Mrs. C. L. Wood returned from Rochester, Minn., Tuesday much improved in health.

Mrs. Albert Borchert entertained twelve ladies on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Marie Humm left Monday noon for her home in St. Louis after an extended visit at the home of her brother, Andrew Humm, and family.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Cole moved a family to their new home on Wednesday, Mr. G. E. Rodee from New Jersey joined Mrs. Rodee and family, who have been visiting with Mrs. Rodee's parents the past three months. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hagen of La Crosse and Harry E. Cole of New London, Mrs. J. R. Cole of Vandeville, the wife of a brother of T. W. Cole.

AUTO VALUATION TAX AND GRADUATED LICENSE FEE PLAN OF COUNTY BOARDS

MADISON, Wis.—Elimination of the personal property tax on automobiles and instead the payment of a 2 per cent valuation tax to go to the highway fund was the leading recommendation of the county boards' association made public on Tuesday.

The report was drafted by the legislative committee of the Wisconsin County Boards association as the result of a series of conferences held in Madison. Copies will be mailed to every member of a county board in the state and they are requested to take action on the recommendations of the committee with a view of placing before the legislature the consensus of opinion of the county boards of the state as to needed highway legislation.

The problem to be met grew out of two factors:

The last legislature failed to pass the highway appropriation bill making funds available to meet the federal aid, of which Wisconsin has had $6,700,000 allotted to it and which will be turned over to the state when the state provides an equal amount. If the state does not meet it it will be distributed among the other states.

Place Burden on Auto

In the past the state funds to meet the federal aid have been met by a general property tax. The committee in its report states that in their opinion the general property tax has reached the peak load, that the legislature would not pass a bill of that character, and hence some other means of getting the money must be devised. They discovered that this year, the total cost of road building in Wisconsin will be $37,000,000 and that the motor vehicle pays only $4,000,000 in the form of a license fee. Apart from the practical problem of the impossibility of further general property taxes, in equity the committee believes that too much of the share of the cost of road improvement is borne by a tax on real and personal property and that the motor vehicle should bear a larger share.

They recommend that the motor vehicle carry $8,000,000 more of the road bill, or $10,000,000 in all.

They recommend that the present license be graduated on the basis of fifty cents per hundred of weight, beginning with cars like the Ford at $7.00 and upward. The present rate is a flat one of $10.00. This would produce $3,500,000 a year.

Drop Personal Property Tax

They recommend the elimination of the personal property tax on motor vehicles and instead the payment of a 2 per cent valuation tax to the state to go to the highway fund. They suggest 80 per cent of the first year's valuation for taxation purposes, 75 per cent the second, and 50 per cent the third. Full taxes and license fees will be paid to July 1 and thereafter they will be graduated downward. The committee holds that this is not a new tax but takes the place of the personal property tax which averages over 2 per cent to yield $3,500,000.

A new tax is recommended, 2 cents a gallon for gasoline used in motor vehicles on highways with a provision for a refund on gasoline used for other purposes. This would yield $2,500,000 a year.

Graduated License Fee

They recommend a graduated and largely increased fee averaging one dollar per hundred pounds of weight with load on heavy weight motor trucks and motor buses.

Of interest to the cities and counties is the recommendation that a part of the proceeds of license fees and taxes on heavy trucks, $625,000, would go to them directly.

The proceeds of these fees on heavy trucks licensed in cities of over 5,000 population are recommended to go 75 per cent to the cities and 25 per cent to the counties. In addition they suggest that state trunk highways running through the cities be treated the same as these trunk highways outside the cities in the matter of receiving maintenance funds from the state, and that the cities be paid so much per mile for the maintenance of these streets the same as the country highways.

An important recommendation is that hereafter state trunk highways be built with state and federal funds and that the counties not be required to contribute one-third of the cost of the building as at present.

With $10,000,000 available from motor vehicles there would be provided $2,200,000 to meet the federal aid; $4,000,000 for state trunk highway maintenance; $2,000,000 for county trunk maintenance; the $755,000 taken from the general fund for state aid would be allowed to remain in that fund and taken care of out of the imposts on motor vehicles; and the special bridge fund would be taken care of from the same source; roads to and in state parks. It would pay one-half the cost of the overhead of county highway organizations; the overhead of the state highway department.

The committee does not favor income taxes to meet the state road bill. If an increased income tax should be provided and a larger share allotted to local units they may use such funds for road purposes. At present the state retains only a small share of the income tax receipts.

The committee does not favor in-plan general property taxes in the sum of one mill would be eliminated. It states that the proposed method will reduce the burden of taxation upon the small property owner by increasing the charges upon the constant users of the highways upon the users of highways for profit, and upon owners of expensive motor vehicles. The new funds which it would make available to take place of the general property taxes eliminated would come from the following sources: the gasoline tax; from 50,000 motor vehicles now escaping taxation as personal property; from large imposts on heavier and higher priced cars; from higher truck and motor bus fees; from the shift in the valuation tax from a personal property tax to a tax to be paid to the state. They recommend the $6,700,000 federal aid be spent over a three year period.

LEGAL BATTLE AT WEST SALEM ENDS IN WIN FOR GREEN

A legal battle was staged in the offices of Justice Blackburn, at West Salem, Monday afternoon that was as exciting and as hard-fought as any seen in the village in some time. The Milwaukee Specialty company and Jacob Green, a fur and hide dealer of West Salem brought suit against B. Beeber, a grocer. Green won. The complainants alleged that Beeber intended leaving West Salem and attached his grocery stock for a debt he is said to have owed the company. Green was the plaintiff in the action because he had guaranteed the account. Beeber was sued for $162 and the justice rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff for $162 and costs. The case was prosecuted by Lawrence J. Brody while the attorney for the defense was Rudolph Schlabach.
